RALPH McGILL

Straw in GOP Winds!

A recent and friendly resignation from President Eisenhower's staff indicates to some in Washington that he will not be a candidate for re-election.

Dr. Kevin McCann, a fine and wonderful, self-effacing man, has resigned to go back to his job as president of Defiance College in Ohio. It is quite likely that aside from Press Secretary Hagerty none on the Washington scene as intimately knows the real Eisenhower as does Dr. McCann.

Before the war he was a newspaper man and country weekly editor. He was in his mid-forties when the second big war came crashing down on our heads at Pearl Harbor. He enlisted. He became an automatic rifleman and was sent to the Pacific theater, private first class. By war's end he was a major and had seen action in much of the toughest fighting in the long, bloody campaign which retook the islands from the Japanese.

Editor

About that time General Eisenhower was looking for someone with writing and editing experience to look over a huge, growing pile of manuscript, much of it written in longhand. This later was published under the title, "Crusade in Europe."

"They" looked in the 201 files and found McCann under "newspaper and editor."

"They" interviewed him and liked him. "They" took him in to see the then Chief of Staff, Gen. Eisenhower. He, too, liked what he saw. Dr. McCann, like all non-professional Army men, was hoping to get out as soon as possible. He was asked to give six months to the job. He agreed. He did so well they asked him to stay on another six months. They urged him to ask for a regular commission, but he begged off because he felt himself too old to launch on a military career. When Ike himself left the Army to become president at Columbia, Dr. McCann went along as an administrative assistant.

A few months later there came a letter to the president of Columbia from Defiance, Ohio, asking him if he knew of someone he would recommend as president of Defiance College. Dr. McCann was asked if he knew anyone who might be interested. Reportedly, he said he knew just the man—McCann. At any rate, he was recommended and got the job, taking over in the autumn of 1948.

Paris

In 1951 the president of Columbia was in Paris putting SHAPE together and he began to miss the sure touch of McCann. So he began to bombard him in Defiance with requests to come over for six months. (Columbia, too, was anxious about its president getting back. They had even sent over his old desk just to keep fresh in his memory the fact he was merely on leave.) Dr. McCann went over and really did manage to get away after a year.

He went back to Defiance and stayed there until after the 1952 elections. He then got another one of those Macedonian cries and pretty soon was in an office right next to the President of the United States. First, he was a consultant. Then he was made assistant to the President at $25,000 a year plus "perquisites."

Somewhere along the line he managed to do a book—"The Man From Abilene." It didn't sell too well. One reason was, according to report, the President had been too modest and had eliminated a lot of the really good stuff which McCann had put into it . . . on the theory it was too much praise done by a friend.

At any rate, it has been the fine hand of Dr. McCann, and of Press Secretary Jim Hagerty, which has done some of the best of the public-relations touches which the President has brought off. They have kept him "Ike"—while politicians have been trying to make him something else. More than any other two men they are responsible for the fact of his continuing popularity.

Therefore, when Washington reads Dr. McCann is resigning to go back to Defiance College, they view it as a straw in the GOP winds. It may not mean so at all, but many do not believe he would have departed, with Ike leaning on him so greatly, if he had not known the President would not again offer for office.

Clergy, Jury, Legislators Grapple Juvenile Problem

By RICHARD ASHWORTH

The Fulton Grand Jury held its longest session in almost ten years Tuesday as it began a full-scale investigation of Atlanta's juvenile delinquency problem. The problem also was attacked by the General Assembly and a group of Northside ministers.

The investigation got under way shortly after the grand jury indicted a 17-year-old Atlanta youth on two counts of robbery and a charge of carrying a pistol without a license. He was listed as H. E. (Gene) Craig Jr. of 510 Collier Rd., NW. He is being held in Perry, Fla., with two other Atlanta youths.

They were identified in Juvenile Court as the three other youths involved along with four 16-year-old Northside boys in robberies Dec. 16 of the E-Z Shop at 4440 Roswell Rd., NW, and Dec. 23 of the Quick Shopping Center at 3400 New Marietta Highway.

FIVE CALLED

Five persons were called before the grand jury as it stayed in session until 5:10 p.m. Among them was Fulton Juvenile Judge W. W. Woolfolk, who last week ordered the four youths sent to training school for their parts in the robberies.

In the Legislature, the Georgia House passed a "parental responsibility" bill by a vote of 103 to 11 as a means of "fighting juvenile delinquency." The bill, which now goes to the Senate, would hold parents responsible up to $500 for "willful and wanton vandalism of their children."

The ministers called a meeting of parents for Feb. 20 at Second-Ponce de Leon Baptist Church to "honestly face" the problems of juvenile delinquency. It is to be sponsored jointly by all churches of the Northside.

PAIR ACCEPTED

In other developments, two of the four Northside youths committed to training school by Judge Woolfolk said the other two were "still under commitment and are expected to be sent as soon as they are accepted by the training school."

Youths committed to state training schools have to be held in detention by local juvenile authorities until they are accepted because of overcrowding of the state institutions.

Besides Judge Woolfolk, those who appeared before the grand jury were Weddington Kelly, principal of Northside High School; Det. Sgt. L. L. Hause and Det. Jack Cain of Atlanta's juvenile squad and Dr. William L. Pressly, president of Westminster Schools.

Kelly told a reporter the jury asked questions about the "Dukes" gang, whose members reportedly are students at Northside. The youths held on the rob-

Major South Alabama Strike Sprays 150-Foot Stream of High Grade Oil

CITRONELLE, Ala., Feb. 7 (AP)—The most important strike since the discovery of the Citronelle oil field in August came in on a drill stem test today, spraying a 150-foot stream of high gravity oil into the air.

A total of 2,520 pipe feet of 45.5 gravity oil was recovered as the tool remained open 26 minutes in the Trans-Tex Drilling Co.'s No. 1 Boy Scouts of America well.

"This was a very sensational test," commented W. O. White of Shreveport, La., president of the drilling firm.

The wildcat well is 2½ miles southeast of the Donovan discovery well, which came in as a free flowing well Aug. 16 to open intensive drilling operations in the area.

The oil was taken from 28 feet of sands located at 10,917 to 10,945 feet below the surface. A good steady blow of clean oil continued to burst from the pipe.

The well, just inside the southern city limits of Citronelle, was producing no salt water. The producing sands are only 17 feet lower than the top sands in the Donovan.

Trans-Tex has the principal interest in the well, although some is held by Zach Brooks Drilling Co., the Donovan drillers; and Gulf Refining Co.

Adlai Says Troop Use Can't Force Pupil Mix

By W. H. LAWRENCE

(Copyright 1956 by The New York Times Co.)

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 7—Adlai E. Stevenson told a Los Angeles Negro audience today that as President he would not cut off federal funds from segregated schools nor use federal troops to enforce segregation.

He emphasized a view that only "gradual" means would bring a truly satisfactory settlement of the school crisis and other problems affecting equal rights for all Americans.

His stand was not one that pleased many in his audience of 200 at the Watkins Hotel. It served to speed an already perceptible shift among Negro leaders from the support of Stevenson to Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn). The two are competing in a June 5 winner-take-all primary for California's 68 Democratic convention votes.

CAN'T BE DONE

To the blunt question of whether he would use the Army and Navy, if necessary, to enforce the Supreme Court decision outlawing segregation in public schools, Stevenson responded:

"I think that would be a great mistake. That is exactly what brought on the Civil War. It can't be done by troops or bayonets. We must proceed gradually, not upsetting habits or traditions that are older than the Republic."

There was a murmur of protest in the crowd, and one tall Negro standing next to this correspondent said flatly, "I think he is a phony."

AGAINST BAN ON FUNDS

Still later, when faced with a query about his support of an amendment to deny federal aid funds to Southern States that refuse to integrate their schools, Stevenson answered that he would be against such a federal law. He said the greatest force for better racial relations and for unity was to extend and strengthen the education systems of all the states.

"You should not cut off your nose to spite your face," he said.

"Can you imagine that?" a Negro asked his companion incredulously.

INTERPOSITION DOUBT

Stevenson's response that he did not really understand "interposition" as advocated in some Southern States as a means of nullifying the Supreme Court decision also angered many in his Negro audience.

"I don't understand interposition," Stevenson said. "It sounds like nullification to me. I cannot express an opinion of what the Supreme Court midght do to test interposition . . :

"But I doubt whether interposi-

Cabinet Aide Quits in Row Over Missiles

(Copyright 1956 by The New York Times Co.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7—The internal Pentagon dispute over missile production caused Trevor Gardner, assistant secretary of the Air Force, to submit his resignation last Friday. Pentagon sources believed tonight it would be accepted.

Informed sources suggested the current discussions of the problem between Gardner and Secretary of Defense Wilson were intended to smooth out the parting amenities rather than to prevent the resignation. They have been talking in Miami Beach, Fla., and Bimini in the Bahamas. Wilson is vacationing at the Surf Club in Miami Beach.

In his letter, Gardner was reported to have expressed dissatisfaction with the handling of the guided and ballistics missile program and with the amount of funds allotted for it.

But certain officials also said Gardner was piqued because Wilson was not considering him for the job of "czar" over the critically important and recently accelerated race to produce ballistics missiles before Russia does. The ICBM is conceived for a range of 5,000 miles and the IRBM for 1,500 miles and both could be armed with nuclear bomb warheads.

Gardner has been a controversial figure publicly and behind the scenes. His letter of resignation is said to have expressed disagreement rather strongly with budgetary and research and development policy. It was not received hospitably.

Hence it was not expected President Eisenhower would accept it unless a compromise is worked out by Wilson.

Recruit Wired For Speed Hops To GIs' Rescue

FT. RILEY, Kan., Feb. 7 (AP)—Somewhere in this area there is a rabbit with an honorable discharge from the U.S. Army.

To cross one road, a wire being strung by Battery B, 32nd Field Artillery Bn. had to go through a culvert. One look at his men told Sfc. Floyd F. Walker of Miami, Fla., that they were all too well-fed for the job.

Then Walker remembered Pfc. Odie Williams of Chicago, and the rabbit Williams had just caught in the snow.

Soon the startled rabbit found himself at one end of the culvert, with a wire tied around his waist, and his master waiting at the other end.

The rabbit did his duty and got his freedom back.

Strangers at Deathbed As Girl's Parents Wait

ARNOLD, Pa., Feb. 7 (AP)—An Arnold couple disclosed today they watched a young girl die thinking she was their daughter while her real parents waited outside a hospital room.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Goldberg said they realized the little girl wasn't their daughter only a few seconds before she died yesterday in Citizens General Hospital.

Said Mrs. Goldberg:

"We could only see part of her face. It didn't look like our Janie's, but we weren't sure. We thought her facial expression were changed by the accident.

"We finally found a beret. We knew it wasn't Janie's. We then lifted the covers off the girl's face and saw the pigtails. Only then we realized it wasn't our Janie."

The victim was 5-year-old Judith A. Horneman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Horneman. It was Horneman, a telephone repairman, who finally made the positive identification.

The Westmoreland County Coroner's Office said an auto parked on a steep hill rolled away from its parking spot and overturned on the little girl who was en route to kindergarten.

Both the Goldbergs and Hornemans rushed to the hospital because witnesses' descriptions of the victim led each family to believe the child was their own.

Janie Goldberg, her parents learned later, was safe in school.

U-System Budget Bid Up a Million

Groover To Let Increase Stay In

By ALBERT RILEY

Rep. Ebb Duncan of Carroll finally got an extra million dollars added Tuesday to Gov. Griffin's proposed 1956-57 budget for the University System of Georgia.

The House Appropriations Committee, reconsidering its action of Monday in holding the University System allocation to $16,100,000, upped it to $17,100,000.

The committee then went on to approve a total "regular" state budget of $284,000,000—one million dollars more than the governor had requested.

Also approved was a contingent budget of $53,900,000, which House Floor Leader Denmark Groover termed a "wish book" section that would be financed only if sufficient revenue is available.

DUNCAN VICTORY

The million-dollar increase for the University Stytem represented at least a partial victory for Duncan's untiring efforts.

He originally sought to raise the University System appropriations to $23,000,000 as compared to the governor's proposed $16,100,000. But Duncan abandoned that effort and then was beaten, 11 to 10, Monday when he tried to get $18,600,000 in the committee.

The Carroll countian got an assist Tuesday from Rep. Woodrow Lavender of Elbert, who had opposed him before the committee the day before.

It was Lavender who got the committee to reconsider its earlier action on the University System budget and then proposed the amendment granting the million-dollar increase.

The amendment was adopted by a vote of 22 to 6.

GROOVER ACCEPTS

Rep. Groover, who has been trying to hold the lid on the appropriations bill, voted against the amendment but did not speak against it.

This indicated that the administration will not try to delete the increased amendment when the appropriations bill hits the floor of the House.

Duncan, who was congratulated

Mother Dies After Getting Last Wish

AMERICUS, Feb. 7 (AP)—A 39-year-old Buena Vista mother suffering from leukemia got her last wish so that she could "die happy."

Mrs. Alte Mae Sims had been in the Americus hospital for about three weeks. Her daughter, Gloria Kidd, 19, and James M. Cook, 20, of Atlanta and Americus were awaiting the outcome of her condition before going ahead with their wedding plans.

It became evident that her condition was growing steadily worse and yesterday she requested that the couple be married at once. A quick call went to the Rev. W. L. Alford, Baptist minister of Plains, who hurried to the hospital and in the presence of near relatives and nurses performed the wedding.

Just afterwards, as the minister clasped Mrs. Sims' hand, she whispered, "Brother Alford, I'm so happy."

Four hours later the Marion County matron was dead.

Funeral services were held this afternoon.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Feb. 7 (AP)—A Negro coed today gave University of Alabama officials 48 hours to readmit her as a student.

proximately 400 instructors, the second called since violent demonstrations against the university's first Negro student.

THREATENS LEGAL ACTION

Autherine Lucy, 26, was excluded from classes "until further notice" by the board of trustees as a safety measure last night. Today she threatened legal action if not readmitted in 48 hours.

The faculty voted on the resolution after Dr. O. C. Carmichael, university president, explained the board's action. He said outsiders who "invaded our campus" were "largely responsible for the resulting disorder." He said the board "dared not postpone action lest greater violence" should follow.

Carmichael moved adjournment but Asst. Political Science Prof. Charles D. Farris objected, saying, "I can see no reason why the faculty should be compelled to agree with the action of the board of trustees."

OFFERS RESOLUTION

Farris offered a resolution asking the faculty to condemn "mob rule" at the school. The resolution said the university cannot continue to operate under such conditions with threats to faculty and students, and asked for civil or military protection for them.

The instructor said the resolution called for the university to suspend operations if these conditions could not be provided.

When Dr. Carmichael called for a vote there was both a loud chorus of "aye" and "no." He ruled the resolution was defeated by voice vote.

ASKED ABOUT POLICE

Prof. Fred Ogden asked "why police protection had not been more adequate at this time?" He also is a member of the political science department.

Art Prof. Lawrence Calcagno said he wanted to express the personal feeling that "our university has succumbed to mob rule."

The legislature of the University Student Government Assn.

Delayed Economy Bills Start Through House

Economy bills began moving through the Georgia Legislature Tuesday after being sidetracked for other administration legislation.

The House, in a tight squeeze, passed a bill establishing a fiscal officer for the Department of Education. The final count was 105 to 69, but a few votes had to

The House State of Republic Committee late Tuesday recommended passage of eight bills suggested by the Legislative Economy Committee.

These bills would: Permit the state to carry its own insurance; study the possibility of expanding prison industries; cease building cabins at state parks; study the possibility of the state doing its own printing; study the possibility

Takeout Tax Study Voted By Senate

After a long hassle, the Georgia Senate Tuesday adopted a resolution setting up a committee to study Georgia's income tax laws with especial emphasis on the need for a withholding tax.

The committee would have seven members: two senators, two representatives, two appointed by the governor, and the commissioner of revenue as chairman.

Sen. Everett Millican of Atlanta, who offered the resolution, said it had two primary purposes:

(1) To study income tax laws to make them conform to the federal income tax code and (2) to consider the advisability of an income withholding provision.

A move to postpone action indefinitely, thus killing the proposal, was voted down 32-12. The Senate then voted 30-15 to approve the resolution and send it to the House.

Millican said Alabama got nearly five million dollars more by adopting a withholding provision.

George Committee Moves Quickly, Blocking Rival Probe of Case Gift

(Copyright 1956 by The New York Times Co.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7—A special investigating committee of senior senators moved with urgent dispatch today to determine whether an improper attempt had been made to influence a colleague's vote on the natural gas bill.

Within four hours of its creation by at 90 to 0 Senate vote, the committee organized, elected Sen. George (D-Ga) as chairman and scheduled a public hearing for next Friday with Sen. Case (R-SD) as the witness.

It thus won the first lap in an extraordinary jurisdictional race with the Senate Privileges and Elections subcommittee, which was simultaneously trying to launch an immediate investigation of its own.

In the process, the special committee asserted its exclusive jurisdiction with the backing of a formal ruling by Vice President Nixon and forced the competing subcommittee to abandon a hearing at which Case was to have testified this afternoon.

Despite the setback, Sen. Hennings (D-Mo), chairman of the Privilegse and Elections subcommittee, served notice of his intention to "pursue this investigation with diligence and dispatch" and "see it through to the end."

He had previously announced the subcommittee's intention to go beyond the scope of the Special committee and look into any and all campaign contributions or expenditures that may have been offered or made in connection with Senate consideration of the gas bill.

The special committee's assignment is to investigate "the circumstances involving an alleged improper attempt through political contributions to influence the vote of the junior senator from South Dakota, Mr. Case."

The bill, which would exempt natural gas producers from direct federal regulation, was passed by the Senate and sent to the White House last night, 53 to 38.

Case reported during the debate that he had spurned a $2,500 cash campaign confribution by an out-of-state lawyer interested in passage of the measure. John M. Neff, of Lexington, Neb., identified himself yesterday as the donor but insisted "no strings were attached."

A resolution creating the special committee to investigate the incident was adopted without dissent and without debate as the Senate convened today.

Nixon immediately appointed the members: Senators George and Hayden of Arizona, Democrats, and Bridges of New Hampshire and Thye of Minnesota, Republicans.

U.S. Says Sky Free To Weather Balloons

Dulles Hints Violent Protest By Soviet May Bring Curb

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States is disposed to give friendly consideration to Moscow's protest against American weather balloons floating over Russia.

He said the United States has a right to send weather balloons anywhere in the world it wants to, though he conceded that international law on the subject is pretty much up in the air.

He told his news conference, in reference to a formal complaint from Russia, that the United States is "disposed to try to avoid the territory of any country which felt violent objection" to having the balloons overhead.

FRIENDLY RELATIONS

Dulles said this would be "not as a matter of right but as a matter of decent, friendly relations."

He said Russia apparently was confusing, deliberately or otherwise, the U. S. Air Force weather balloons with propaganda balloons launched by private anti-Communist groups in Europe.

The United States, he said, has no control over such groups which he described as mostly composed of Iron Curtain refugees who want "to communicate with their fellows back home."

The Free Europe Press, a privately supported American organization which sends propaganda balloons to some Communist countries, said at Munich, Germany, today, that it has never sent any over Russia.

Dulles' news conference was devoted almost entirely to the Soviet balloon protest. He said a formal reply to Moscow would go out today or tomorrow

On other foreign policy issues, Dulles reported:

1. He and President Eisenhower are taking their time about replying to Soviet Premier Bulganin's latest letter to Eisenhower calling for a 20-year friendship treaty. Dulles said the letter obviously was designed mostly for domestic propaganda purposes. However, he said it is getting "careful study to see if we can find in it anything which might possibly be useful."

BONN TROOP SUPPORT

2. The United States is continuing conversations started at Paris last December with West German officials about their country's contribution toward support of Allied forces inside Germany. So far no "positive conclusion" has been reached. West Germany is reported anxious to be relieved of responsibility for such support after the current agreement expires May 5.

3. The United States and Britain have formally notified the U.N. they favor enlarging the U.N. truce force in the Middle East as a means of preventing renewal of the Palestine War.

4. The United States is confident that Pakistan, being wooed with Soviet and Red Chinese economic overtures, is "aware of the inherently predatory nature of Soviet foreign policy." He said he considers it unlikely that the Communists can change this Pakistani view.

Collins Says Florida Cannot Afford Racial Issue Turmoil

TAMPA, Fla., Feb. 7 (AP)—Gov. Leroy Collins declared today Florida canont afford to get mixed up in turmoil over racial issues and denounced any office seeker who campaigns by "inflammatory statements calculated to arouse fear and hatred."

Using perhaps his strongest words on the racial problem, Collins told a gathering of several hundred Tampa businessmen at a Florida State Fair luncheon:

"Believe me when I say Florida cannot afford an orgy of race conflict and discord."

Collins saved his remarks on racial issues until the end of his prepared speech, which he read. He led up to his remarks on segregation by telling of present and future industrial developments in Florida. He said he wanted to see Florida have the best of everything.

"Above all, this is why I do not want to see us waste our energies in the fruitless furor of agitating racial misunderstanding.

"As your governor . . . I wish to emphasize that this is a time, perhaps above all others, when our people should be united in a common dedication of unselfish service to promote the welfare of all."

Then he added:

"One of our most effective appeals (to investors) has been that we can offer soundness, stability and security. Nothing will turn these investors away quicker than the prospect of finding communities hepped up by demagoguery and seething under the tension and turmoil of race hatred.

"We can preserve segregation without furor. We have demonstrated this effectively up to this time."

Ala. Legislature Votes To Give Parents Choice of Segregated or Mixed Schools

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 7 (AP)—Unwilling to rely entirely on a new placement law to preserve segregation, the Alabama Legislature today approved a constitutional amendment to let parents say whether they want their children to attend integrated schools.

The proposed change in the law which also would empower the Legislature to abolish public schools if saw fit, goes to the people in a special statewide election called for Aug. 28.

Final passage in the House came on a vote of 99-1. The bill passed the Senate on a 33-0 vote last month.

The proposed amendment would apply only to elementary and high school grades and would not affect institutions of higher learning.

If ratified the new segregation measure would:

1. Allow pupils to attend separate schools if they wish or integrated classes if they prefer them. Thus Alabama could have segregated schools for both races along with integrated classes at the same time.

2. Eliminate a present constitution requirement for free public schools and leave the way open for the Legislature to set up a private school system or some other means of education.

3. Make it unlawful to compel any student to attend school with members of the opposite race.

4. Empower the Legislature to make school board members judicial officers so they would be immune from damage suits.

Sen. Albert Boutwell of Jefferson County, who introduced the amendment after it was recommended by a special legislative committee, said he felt the recently enacted placement law alone is insufficient to safeguard classroom segregation.

"We need both the placement bill and the freedom of choice amendment," he added, "because the placement law might not work in every case and it might not hold up in court."

That statute, passed by the Legislature last summer, gives local school boards virtually unlimited authority to say where each individual pupil must attend school.

Although it doesn't mention either race, it was designed so board members can assign Negroes to Negro schools and white pupils to white schools.

Like the "freedom of choice" amendment, the placement law applies only to the below-college grades.

Tax Digest Expert Held Fulton Need

The Fulton County Board of Education may have to hire a fiscal expert to determine how much tax revenue it will receive this year under the county's new tax digest, Supt. Paul D. West told the board Tuesday.

The county superintendent told the board at its monthly meeting that the board "may come to" hiring an expert such as the City of Atlanta has hired to accurately determine the size of its tax digest under the tax reappraisal program.

West made the remark during board discussion of setting a new tax rate under its recently authorized 25-mill ceiling. Board President W. L. Robinson said the board will have to postpone setting the new tax rate until more accurate estimates on the size of the digest are known.

J. D. Wootan Jr., administrative assistant, said he had been advised that firm figures on the digest would not be available from the Joint Board of Tax Assessors until about July, which is after the legal deadline for setting new tax rates.

Available estimates indicate, however, that the digest will not exceed the total of the 1955 tax digest, he added.

In other actions, the county school board authorized use of property adjacent to the Newton Estates Elementary School in College Park as a parking facility by the Newton Estates Baptist Church and passed a resolution asking that all its employes be placed under jurisdiction of metropolitan Atlanta's civil defense unit in any CD exercise.

MENTAL HEALTH LEADERS GREET MOVIE STAR

Films Reveal Religions Of India at Series Here

Georgians were given glimpses of four of the great religions of India Tuesday night at the Tower Theater when producer Lew Ayres presented and commented on four documentaries.

Ayes spent two years and thousands of dollars producing the four movies and five more which will be presented Friday and Saturday.

The first movie, "The Flame of Zoroaster," illustrated Parsi life in India and presented beliefs and rites of Zoroastrians.

HINDU COMPLEXITIES

The second, the longest of the four, "The Wheel of Karma," dealt with Hinduism. In addition to a lucid, interesting presentation of an unusually confusing religion, there were several sidelights, such as the contortions of a monk practicing yoga, which would compete with circus acrobatics for pure spectacle.

The final two movies, "The Sword and the Book" and Guardians of Life," were documentary films on Sikhism and Jainism.

Friday night's program will include three films on Hinayana and Mahayana Buddism, Confucianism, Taoism and Shinto. On Saturday there will be two films on Judaism and Islam.

HOPES UNDERSTANDING

Ayres said he hopes the films will help to bring mutual understanding in the world and eventually world peace.

Earlier Tuesday Ayres and Joseph A. Wyant, president of the Georgia Association for Mental Health, addressed a group of volunteer workers at the Progressive Club. The Mental Health fund campagin in May has a goal of $150,000.

About 250,000 Georgians are suffering from mental illness or emotional disturbances, Wyant said. "Georgia urgently needs more facilities and trained personnel for treatment of the mentally ill," he said.

2 Die in State Of Injuries in Road Wrecks

Two persons died of traffic injuries in Georgia Tuesday, the State Patrol said.

Eugene Fortner, 20, of Rte. 1, Dahlonega, was killed when the car he was driving sideswiped another on state Highway 52 at Dahlonega, the Patrol said.

Mrs. Nancy Ann Lynn, 30, of Tipton, Iowa, who was injured Monday in a Henry County crash in which her small son was killed, died at Grady Hospital. David Joel Lynn, 4, was killed in the truck-car collision at the intersection of Georgia Highways 138 and 155, 15 miles south of Atlanta.

Mrs. Lynn's father, Frank Luther Morris, 60, a Tipton heating contractor, was transferred to Crawford W. Long Hospital.

McKinney To Resign as Williams Aide

By ELKIN TAYLOR

Charles D. McKinney Jr., executive assistant to DeKalb Commissioner Wheat Williams, has informed Williams of his intention to resign "in the near future."

McKinney will continue to work part-time until the position can be filled, Williams said.

McKinney said his decision was made because of the illness of his partner in a plumbing business.

Williams said McKinney will be "very difficult to replace. He can do more in an hour than most men can do in three hours."

McKinney established a personnel system for the county.

Budget Is Adopted

DeKalb's budget of $4,900,000 was adopted Tuesday by Commissioner Williams.

The budget, showing an increase of $200,000 over last year, includes pay raises for some 85 per cent of the county's employes. Comptroller M. O. Sams said this year's budget was completed two months earlier than usual. Allocations included $1,118,362 for the Public Works Department; $469,465 for public safety; $54,600 for the county jail; $100,290 for tax assessing, and $110,910 for the tax commissioner.

The increase in the appropriation for tax assessing is necessitated by increased work involved in tax-equalization.

Red Cross Chairman

Charles N. Kell has been appointed general chairman of the 1956 Red Cross campaign in DeKalb, Gilbert McLemore, president of the DeKalb chapter, has announced.

A "kickoff" dinner at the Emory University cafeteria March 1 will start the drive.

Goal of the 1956 campaign here is $64,255. This is $13,255 more than was raised in 1955.

Slum Clearance Is Another Step Closer

At long last Atlanta's urban redevelopment program shows signs of getting under way.

At the request of Alderman Hamilton Douglas Jr., the city's Board of Aldermen has authorized the Atlanta Housing Authority to apply for $524,000 in federal funds to be used in planning the program.

The housing authority is the body, which after considerable wrangling, has been designated as the authority to carry out this slum clearing and renewal program. The areas which will be studied for redevelopment are Buttermilk Bottoms in the lower Piedmont Ave. area; a section in the neighborhood of Atlanta University and the Washington-Rawson street section.

Urban redevelopment is that process by which a municipality, with the aid of federal funds, buys up and clears its substandard, revenue-deficient sections. These sections then are rebuilt into socially healthy, economically self-supporting parts of the city.

Factually, but regrettably, Mr. Douglas pointed out that it may be two years before any concrete steps can be taken. The federal government must approve the request for funds, plans must be drawn and approved and then finally federal aid may be forthcoming.

Atlanta has been extraordinarily slow in qualifying for these federal face-lifting and general rejuvenation funds. But now that the road is cleared of legal obstacles and the Board of Aldermen has approved this definite move, we trust that from now on all possible haste will be made.

No Small-Time Stuff For These Republicans!

This is not about a mink coat.

Nor a "deep freeze."

It is about the resignation of a Republican, Edmund F. Mansure, General Services administrator.

A legislative panel is investigating possible extending of favors by Mansure. He denies there were any.

But it seems that Mr. Mansure was recommended for his job by a Chicago brokerage and insurance firm. The recommendation itself was written on the stationery of the Chicago GOP Club and signed by the executives of the company—who also were officers of the Republican Cook County organization.

Later on this firm got a contract that promised to attain a fee running to thousands of dollars. The firm says the dollars hadn't come through when the investigation began.

When these stories come up—as they frequently do—they always reveal our GOP friends never fool around with peanuts.

Florida Gets the Jump On Nuclear Energy Use

Our neighbor to the south, Florida, seems to be getting the atomic jump on us—in industrial use of nuclear energy and in education.

In Washington the Atomic Energy Commission has announced receipt of seven proposals for private construction of small nuclear power plants of the kind that could supply heat and electricity to U.S. or foreign communities.

Two of the proposals are from Florida.

Orlando seeks a metal fuel reactor, 25,000 to 40,000 kilowatts, and the University of Florida wants a smaller one, producing 2,000 kilowatts, for educational and experimental purposes.

The university hopes by this progressive step to be well ahead of her sister states when nuclear energy becomes commonly used for industrial power.

And since she has acted while others are talking, it is very likely she will succeed.

The Best Police Work Is in Crime Prevention

There is a tribute to Scouting and to adults who give of their time in Scout leadership in the comments this week of two Atlanta detectives on the subject of teen-age crime.

The two are J. L. Cain and J. Letchas Carney, both of them Scoutmasters and the latter a recipient of the Silver Beaver, coveted honor that goes to few Scouters.

Besides investigating crime in Atlanta, these two men give of their time in crime prevention. They do that in the hours they devote to organizing and guiding Scout troops.

Detective Cain says he has seen the incidence of juvenile crime drop appreciably in areas where Scout troops have been started. He says he hasn't had a single Boy Scout in one of his troops to go "bad."

Too often a police officer is judged by the number of arrests he makes or the number of cases he breaks. More often, he should be judged by the number of arrests he has prevented, the crimes he has stopped before they started.

He can do that by vigilance, by precept and example, by a leadership that brings him close to his constituents.

We commend Detectives Cain and Carney for their records in that respect.

We commend Scouting as a deterrent to delinquency.

Probe Is a Bit Late On Gas Bill Charges

The U.S. Senate voted yesterday to investigate an "alleged improper attempt" to influence the vote of Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) on the natural gas bill. The attempt involved an offer of $2,500 to the senator's campaign fund. How many other senators were influenced the same way?

The probe comes a little late. The Senate already had passed by a vote of 53-38 the measure to remove federal price regulation from natural gas producers. Spearheaded by Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex), the bill went through on schedule even after Sen. Case had made his accusations.

By all means the charges should be investigated. Few times, if ever in history, has a lobby so blanketed the country. The big oil companies, who stand to profit most from this bill, have been quite frank about it. They want gas production unregulated and have waged a persistent battle dating back for years. One such bill was vetoed by President Truman.

The ultimate cost to consumers has been estimated at hundreds of millions of dollars. Opponents call it a bigger giveaway than tidelands oil.

Georgians are grateful to Sen. Russell, who voted against the bill, and to Sen. George, who paired against it.

Meanwhile, another presidential veto is in order, although doubtful.

State Withholding Tax May Prove a Bonanza

The State Senate has agreed to a proposal by Sen. Everett Millican of Atlanta that a committee be appointed to study the possibility of a state income withholding tax.

The proposal, which might catch Georgia's estimated 200,000 tax evaders met with a notable lack of enthusiasm when first it was introduced. Later it gained a few more friends and yesterday passed by a vote of 30 to 15. The resolution now goes to the House, we hope for concurrence.

Tax evasion is one of Georgia's major problems. There is a well grounded suspicion that the state could raise its income by seven millions annually if enforcement were better or taxpayer morale were higher. Failing these two factors, a withholding tax—if such a system is found to be practical—seems the answer.

There is no argument about the need of additional millions for expanded state services under any circumstances. But due to the failure of this General Assembly to adopt any substantial economy measures this appears to be a sum that the legislators cannot afford to overlook.

Guided Missiles Lag Becomes Highly Serious

Trevor Gardner, Air Force research chief, has threatened to resign in protest against "a lack of urgency" in guided missile and related weapons.

This is a controversy long at the boiling point.

Until now it has been confined to the Senate where Senators Russell and Symington have been declaring this country inadequately armed in the field of guided missiles. But under cover almost everyone concerned has been talking off the record and all declare that Defense Secretary Wilson's lack of imagination and his penny-penching methods have given the Russians a tremendous advantage over us.

That the Air Force research chief should now threaten resignation to dramatize the country's lack of defense is illustration of the seriousness with which the men who know the true situation view our inadequacy.

Meanwhile, Congress has before it a request for $25,000,000 to build facilities for a ballistic missile with a 1,500-mile range. It, too, is marked urgent.

The Russians—say our experts—already have such a weapon.

We have not even appropriated the money to build a plant.

The urgency—and the distress of those responsible for defense—is easy to comprehend.

Every day brings new evidence that Secretary of Defense Wilson is not fitted for the job.

'The Governor Should Not Use His Powers To Settle Personal Grudges With Others'

Jesup—We do not like to see Gov. Griffin using his powers to settle personal grudges. A man in his position should be able to take a little criticism and opposition with good grace.

The newspaper issue is one of his most spiteful acts. Is this bill actually for the protection of the people? We don't believe it for a minute. It is unfair. We want freedom of the press!

Another grievance we have is against our legislators. Why do our representatives go along with these bills? We didn't know we were electing a bunch of "yes men." I think I speak for the people when I say we had rather sacrifice any favors from the governor and accept his retaliation than to lose our right to oppose him.

Gov. Griffin is fast losing the respect of the people. We are reminded of the adage "Give a man a little authority and you can always tell how big he is." It would behoove him to remember that he is still a servant of the people.

MARY McGOUIRK.

He'd Like To See Libel Bill Roll Call

Sylvester — May I suggest that you give us a record vote of the Legislature on the Libel Bill in both Houses?

Let there come out in bold print the name of each legislator and the stand he took, if any, and let it show if anyone was not man enough to take a stand.

I believe the time has come in Georgia for men to take a stand of their own and not be driven like herds of cattle.

A. H. PINSON.

Editor's Note: The Constitution carried the roll call vote in the House. There was no roll call vote in the Senate, but The Constitution carried a list of senators who signed the bills when they were introduced. We are grateful to Mr. Pinson and many others for their kind expressions of confidence and support.

An Ode to Members Of General Assembly

Chatsworth—

The Senate and the House it seems
At last got in their licks
At papers who would print the truth
Of dirty politics.
"The lyin' papers" got 'em riled
And "fuzzed up" fer to fight.
Perhaps they know of other deals
That cannot stand the light.
Don't blame the poor lawmakers now,
Those puppets on a string.
When Marvin sounds the keynote "Aye,"
His "yes men" start to sing.
We read "The truth shall make you free,"
The truth is what we need.
More pow'r to all the editors
Exposing graft and greed!
And, just as a concluding thought
Here is a hopeful note,
They cannot tell us what to think
Or, thank God, how to vote!

J. H. LUFFMAN.

This Legislature Sets A Very Poor Example

Atlanta — Not too long ago a group of high school boys and girls from all over the state gathered in Atlanta to stage a General Assembly. Along with others I went to the Capitol to observe these youngsters in action. What a fine bunch of kids! They went about their work with dignity. This mock legislature was serious business with them.

Would it be a good idea to call these Hi-Y boys and girls back into action? Perhaps they could return us to calmness, help us to find the solid earth and lead us out of this bog in which we are floundering.

JOHN W. STANLEY.

Legislative Assault on Press Is Completely Indefensible

In the Calhoun Times

In the debate in the State Senate on the so-called "libel bill," aimed primarily at the Atlanta newspapers, one senator was quoted as expressing the hope that the bill would deter the newspapers from printing certain things.

In view of the generally understood motive back of this spite legislation, the plain implication of the senator's statement was that he hoped the newspapers would be afraid to print such facts about public officials as those recently brought out by the state auditor concerning the dealings of the head of the State Highway Department.

Georgia's present libel laws are among the most stringent of any state in the nation. If anybody in Georgia has been libeled by any newspaper in this state, he has always been afforded the fullest opportunity to go into court and collect damages. But nobody is going to court. Why? The only reasonable assumption is that nobody has suffered libel at the hands of any newspaper in this state.

The tendency in recent legislatures to hamstring and circumscribe the press in the performance of its normal function of keeping the people informed is most disturbing to thoughtful citizens. There is one bright facet to the dismal picture presented under the Capitol dome in Atlanta, and that is the reaction of the people. I have yet to hear a single lay citizen defend the legislative assault on the press; on the other hand, many have roundly denounced it.

If the time ever comes that the press of Georgia is afraid to print the news about anything that is happening in this state, or to criticize their public officials for questionable official acts, then this state will be in a sad and dangerous condition.

Jack Parks

In The Dahlonega Nugget

The Georgia Legislature wasted a lot of time and public money this week passing spite laws against the Atlanta newspapers while many other more constructive items needed attention.

So many members of the Legislature now either hold jobs with the state or wish to get roads for their counties, that few have the courage to stand and fight for their beliefs, if they run counter to the governor's wishes.

We have a really serious situation in Georgia in that respect. Independent - thinking legislators are almost a thing of the past, and will remain so as long as the governor has complete control over dispensing highways and so long as members of the Legislature may do business with the state, or hold state jobs during their legislative tenure.

Electric Blankets And Cats Don't Mix

The trouble with an electric blanket is it attracts cats. You set the dial down low and push the switch and crawl in and lie there feeling nice and warm and snug and at peace with the universe. Then all at once—thump—thump—thump—every cat in the house has left his own bed and is up on the bed with you, stomping around trying to find a place to curl up and go to sleep.

But there is no way in the world a man can sleep comfortably under an electric blanket with a cat on top of it. Wherever the cat lies he makes a hot spot and this throws the thermostat into action and it shuts the blanket off. And there you are, freezing to death in the middle of the night.

So you struggle up groggily and grope around for the cat until you get a firm grip on him. Then you heave him, like throwing a forward pass, out the door and down the hall. But this is not much good for a cat does not take a hint easily.

He sits there in the hall for a moment, pondering the situation and licking his ruffled fur. Then he decides he will be magnanimous about the whole thing. He will forgive you. So he comes back and jumps up on the bed. Just about the time the blanket has warmed up again, and you are dropping off to sleep, you hear him purring soothingly right in your ear.

So you grab him again and throw him again and if it is a stubborn cat this can go on all night. But throwing a cat is a dangerous thing and it has to be done very skillfully. The trick is to snatch the cat up before he has time to dig his claws in the blanket. For the blanket is interwoven with little wires which carry electricity and when the cat's claws come in contact with these wires there is no telling what might happen.

It has not happened to me yet but I have heard of a lady who was aroused one night by the alarmed squalling of an anguished cat and the equally anguished bellowing of her husband. She looked over at the next bed where all this uproar was coming from.

She says her husband was tugging at the cat and the cat was tugging at the blanket and that sparks were snapping from the cat's whiskers and from the end of its tail and that both the cat and her husband were surrounded by a bluish glow. And she does not know what would have happened if she had not reached over and turned his blanket off right quick.

I do not know whether this is so or not. But she swears it is. Says they haven't had any cat trouble since. The cat won't get within 40 feet of an electric blanket. Unfortunately, though, her husband won't either.

Faith Means Little Without Sacrificing

While down in Florida recently it was my delightful pleasure and privilege to sit for hours with Dr. George Stoves, one of the most colorful and beloved preachers the South has ever known.

Though he is now 85 years old, he has lost none of the deep spiritual insight and sparkling wit which caused the multitudes to crowd his churches in Alabama, Nashville, Memphis and the Mulberry Street Church in Macon.

As we talked along about many things he said, "How is my friend Pierce Harris? Has he changed any?"

I assured him there had been no change in his friend and he was glad to know that. He told me how, when Pierce started in the ministry, he very quickly became outstanding and popular. But he was different from the normal pattern. Into his sermons he put many laughs and into his life he put much enjoyment. He didn't wear the sanctimonious expression on his face that some people thought a preacher should wear, so in some circles he was criticized.

One day, Dr. Stoves remembered, some of the preachers were talking about this young preacher who was getting so much attention across the country. Someone remarked, "He is an attractive speaker but he doesn't have much religion." Dr. Stoves replied to the man about like this:

"I don't know exactly how to measure another man's religion but I do believe Pierce Harris has more than I have. As we all know, he made such a reputation as a baseball player that one of the big league teams offered him $5,000 a year to play for them and in those days that was a lot of money—more than even the biggest preachers made. If it had been me, I likely would have said, 'I'll play ball for a few years and after I can't make that much money any longer, I'll then let the Lord use me as a preacher.'

"But instead, he said 'no' to big league baseball with its money and fame and said 'yes' to the Lord's ministry right then. That meant going to some little country churches at a promised salary of about $600 a year. And I think a man who has done that and still keeps his sense of humor has got a lot of religion."

From that our conversation drifted along other subjects but my own mind went back to another young man. He came to the Lord one day asking about real life and how to find it. The Lord said, "Go and sell that thou hast, and come and follow me" (Matt. 19:21). The young man wanted Christ but he couldn't make the sacrifice and as far as the record goes, he never met Christ again.

And I thought of how, in one way or another every person is sometime faced with that supreme choice and to fail in the choice is to fail in the search for the real meaning of life.

An Editor Looks Back 50 Years

If you go in for reminiscences, flashbacks on the "good old days," then you would like Carey Williams' retrospective piece on the front page of his Herald - Journal at Greensboro, last week's issue. Carey remembered that 50 years ago the 1st of February his father, James Cranston Williams, bought the newspaper in the Greene County seat.

The son remembers that in those days the city owned the light plant and the current was turned on for night use only. The street light in front of the Presbyterian church was kerosene. The lamp tender came along each day to clean the globe and trim the wick.

Although the city operated a waterworks, many families still depended on the open well.

No chlorine, alum or fluorine in the water that came from the old, oaken bucket. You took it straight and unadulterated.

Every summer Greensboro had one or two deaths from typhoid. (By the way, the Internal Revenue people have ruled that he who buys bottled distilled water merely to keep from drinking fluoridated city water can't deduct the cost as a medical expense.)

"The only wonder drug," says the Greensboro editor, still speaking of 'way back when, "was to wear a bag of asafetida. Castor oil wasn't tasteless. You warmed it before the open grate in a tablespoon and chased it with an orange."

The preachers in town get along better now than they did back then, Carey says.

That's encouraging. There's hope for the flock.

The town had three livery stables. The New York drummer came by train, stayed at the Richland Hotel and hired a colored driver to take him out into the county to make his calls.

When James Cranston Williams bought the Herald-Journal in 1906, there were no boll weevils, but plenty of cotton. A medicine show came to town in the spring or summer. The circus came in the fall. An all-Negro show called "the Florida Blossoms" was apt to make a one-night stand. Such was the annual entertainment fare until the first movie was set up in a tent in 1912.

The Herald-Journal is the oldest business in Greensboro today. Except for the newspaper, not another firm was there in 1906 doing business "under the same name and style."

Oil Lobby Proposal Has Senate Jittery

WASHINGTON—In the galleries these days we are hearing much pious talk from the Senate floor about the integrity of the Senate and how it must protect its integrity. This is provoked by the revelation by Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) of the $2,500 cash contribution which a Nebraska lawyer sought to give for his campaign when he learned that the senator was in doubt about how he would vote on the Harris-Fulbright Bill to exempt producers of natural gas from regulation by the Federal Power Commission.

The Senate can protect its integrity and assure public confidence in it by acting rather than talking and in two directions:

(1) By a complete investigation not only of the single episode disclosed by Sen. Case, but into the lobbying activities of big oil interests, including contributions already made to the campaigns of senators as well as promises of future contributions growing out of votes on the present measure.

(2) By revising election laws as proposed by Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo). The senator's cure for existing evils is full publicity of all campaign contributions from whatever source and full disclosure of all expenditures. Along with that he would revise upward the present legal limits on expenditures to meet the increased cost of campaigns, frankly recognizing that it is only realistic to recognize the increased costs.

Another step to meet the campaign fund problem is to enlist the public in the financing of campaigns by a multitude of small contributions from individual citizens — such as in the Ruml plan used by Democrats in the 1952 Adlai Stevenson presidential campaign. This would avoid the need of big contributions from powerful economic interests which they donate in the hope of influencing government policy and legislation.

Never was there a greater need for a real investigation of the oil lobby as now because of the high pressure drive it has put on for the natural gas bill, the like of which has not been seen around here for many years. Nor has the opportunity for a real inquiry been opened up as it is now in the dramatization provided by the offer of a $2,500 campaign contribution to an inconspicuous senator by a hitherto obscure lawyer.

This piqued public curiosity where it was not stirred much seemingly by the huge stakes in this bill — the hundreds of millions of dollars of increase in prices to the consumer and the billions of dollars in windfall it will represent to a handful of big oil companies in the increased value of their natural oil reserves.

How much an inquiry is needed, too, was apparent in the resentful attitude among many senators over Sen. Case's disclosures. As one observer in the press gallery put it, "They'll end up by censuring Sen. Case."

It is common knowledge that a number of senators are beholden to oil interests for campaign contributions and you could sense the anxiety here and there on the floor as Sen. Hennings pressed for a full inquiry that would uncover such contributions.

His Segregation Talk Ousts Negro Principal

Harrison E. Lee, principal of Speight Negro School at Fort Gaines, who recently made speeches calling on Negroes to "forget integration" has resigned and hastily left town with his family, it was revealed Tuesday.

Before he left, Principal Lee submitted an official notice of resignation to the Clay County Board of Education stating that pressure from Negroes in the community forced his decision. His wife, a teacher at the nearby Bluffton Negro school, also resigned.

The young Negro school principal said threats upon himself, his wife and family caused him to turn in his resignation. He decleared pressure had been brought upon him during recent weeks due to publication in the News Record, Fort Gaines weekly newspaper, of a speech he delivered in Morgan, Ga., and Georgetown, Ga.

In the published address, Lee called on Negroes to "forget integration and remember that we yet have not learned how to pool our resources and build even a recreation hall for our children."

Negroes of the community submitted a petition to the board of education late last week calling for the school official's resignation. The petition stated that the resignation would be in the best interest of the Negroes, but no specific reason for the requested action was given.

Big 3 Begin Middle East Studies Today

(Copyright 1956 by The New York Times Co.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7—The United States, Britain and France will begin consultations here tomorrow on what they can do "within the United Nations and outside the United Nations" to prevent or, if necessary, to stop a war between Israel and the Arab states.

The meetings will be a sequel to the talks between President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Eden here last week. The two heads of government decided to continue the search for means of keeping the peace in the Middle East in consultation with France.

This quest, some of the diplomats most concerned predicted today, is likely to be long, with meetings stretching on for weeks and perhaps months. It will be begun, the State Department announced, by British Ambassador Sir Roger Makins, French Ambassador Maurice Couve de Murville and Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy and a considerable body of experts.

As conclusions are reached, diplomats explaned, they will be taken up by the ambassadors with Secretary Dulles.

The scope of the problems that will be discussed was indicated by the composition of officials who will accompany Murphy to tomorrow's organizational session. They are George Allen, assistant secretary for the Near East, Africa and South Asia; Livingston Merchant, assistant secertary for European affairs, and Francis O. Wilcox, assistant secretary for United Nations affairs.

Wilcox was expected to be called upon to help solve the problem evoked by the reference in the Eden-Eisenhower communique and again in today's State Department announcement to possible action "within the United Nations and outside the United Nations."

U.S. and British officials have been talking about the possibility of "putting teeth" into the 1950 declaration by the United States, Britain and France upholding the status quo in the Middle East. It is being suggested that British paratroopers from Cyprus and U.S. aircraft of the Sixth Fleet could intervent to put a quick end to aggression by either Israel or the Arab states.

Leaps From Fiery Building After Tossing Her Sons Out

BALTIMORE, Feb. 7 (AP)—A 27-year-old mother, critically burned and trapped in her second floor apartment, tossed three of her four sons out the window, then jumped herself. Her father and one of her sons died of burns later Tuesday in the hospital.

Firemen fighting their way through choking smoke found John B. Green, about 55, unconscious on the bathroom floor. He died later in Maryland General Hospital as did one of his grandchildren, identified as John Bausman, 4.

Green's daughter, Mrs. George Bausman, was listed as critical with third degree burns and other injuries suffered when she jumped from the second-story window of the burning apartment. In serious conditions were two other Bausman children, Edward, 3, and Joseph, 2.

The youngest and fourth son, 4-month-old James, escaped burning and was carried out of the building by an unidentified neighbor.

Thirteen other persons in the three-story house escaped unhurt.

Spectators attracted to the scene caught the three children as the frantic mother dropped them out of the window, about 20 feet to the ground.

Mrs. Bausman dropped backwards from the window. Her fall was broken by the crowd.

Two other Bausman children, George, 8, and William, 7, were in school at the time.

Bill Will Ask $1-a-Day Raise For Patrolmen

A $1-a-day pay raise for state troopers will be asked in a bill to be introduced in the House Wednesday.

Whitfield Representatives Harlan Houston and Harvey King Jr. said they have 75 signatures on the bill.

"The state patrolmen haven't had a pay raise since 1951," Houston said.

Base pay of troopers is $1,800 a year, with an additional $5-a-day subsistence.

Gov. Griffin, in his budget message, asked for an additional $250,000 annually for the Department of Public Safety. However, this was for increasing the number of troopers.

Rush Repair Of Rain-Hit Streets Here

By HERMAN HANCOCK

Atlanta officials Tuesday launched an extensive street-and-road-repair program to combat the ravages of cold weather and rains.

After conference with construction chief Clarke Donaldson and his assistant, Ray Nixon, Ald. Jesse Draper, chairman of the Public Works Committee, ordered emergency repairs to fill "the biggest crop of holes in Atlanta's history."

Donaldson said each of the department's seven street repair crews is working to close the gap between smooth street surfaces and "more holes than we ever saw around here at any one time."

Draper said emergency crews are repairing Northside drive from North avenue south to Hightower street, and that when the large holes there have been filled he will ask Sam Findley, Inc. to resurface the entire stretch.

"I think the original paving was faulty or it would not be in its present condition," Draper said. "We must fix it, however, since it is one of the city's major traffic arteries. We propose to ask the Findley company, which had the 1955 resurfacing bid, to proceed at once. This will eliminate any delays in advertising for bids."

Donaldson pointed out that recent rains have damaged Atlanta's streets more than they have been damaged in several years. He stressed, however, that freezes, along with the rains, would have been much worse.

State Job Bar to Legislators Killed

The House Tuesday killed a bill which would have prevented Georgia legislators from holding state jobs during their terms.

The vote was 52 for and 83 against the proposal offered by Rep. George Jackson of Jones County.

Jackson said that no person could effectively serve two masters—the people of the state as their representative and a state agency. The bill would have become effective next year, thus not affecting any member of the current General Assembly.

Several legislators hold jobs in state agencies at present. Enforcement of the State Merit System rules in recent months has reduced the number. During the 1954 political campaign, 18 legislators held state jobs.

Here's the roll call on the bill:

Smoke Tax Cut Fails To Get a Majority in Senate

A House committee Tuesday recommended passage of bills cutting the taxes on cigars and cigarettes after the Senate had failed to pass a proposal to reduce the cigarette tax.

The House Ways and Means Committee members said they voted to report the bills favorably simply to "get them on the floor for debate."

The Senate voted, 24 to 21, in favor of a bill to reduce the tax

Rep. Bentley Sen. Harrison

on cigarettes by 1 cent a package. However, it was not a constitutional majority. Sen. Walter Harrison of Millen said he would ask the Senate to reconsider its action.

In other legislative action Tuesday, the House Education Committee No. 1 killed (by burying in subcommittee) Cobb Rep. Fred Bentley's bill to make state school grants on a basis of average daily attendance for the preceding three months. At present, the grants are based on attendance a year old.

The House Banking Committee recommended passage of a bill permitting banks to establish one drive-in branch.

Legislative action was completed on a bill creating a state-wide probation system. The Senate and House accepted a conference committee report, and sent the bill to the governor.

The Legislature also completed action on an administration bill to permit the sale or lease of parks in order to maintain segregation.

The Legislature sent to the governor a bill granting wildlife rangers a $5 per day subsistence allowance.

General Assembly action on bills revising forestry laws was completed and the bills sent to the governor.

The Senate killed a House resolution which could have asked Congress to recall agricultural technicians sent abroad under America's "Point Four" program.

The House State of Republic Committee approved a pay raise for the commissioner of agriculture. It would increase the salary of Commissioner Phil Campbell from $7,500 to $10,000 a year, and continue to allow an additional $800 a year for each four years of service and provide a contingent expense allowance of $2,400 a year.

A bill was introduced in the House to increase the salary of State Welfare Director Alan Kemper from $7,000 to $10,000 a year.

Senators Dorsey Matthews of Moultrie, H. R. Garrett of Quitman and Lawton Ursrey of Hazlehurst led an almost—but not quite—successful fight in the Senate to cut the cigarette tax by one cent a package.

They argued that tobacco buyers are retaliating against Georgia because of last June's two-cent tax increase. Farmers in south Georgia are hurting because of resultant depressed prices for the tobacco they produce, they declared.

Garrett said the bill would cost the state about $2,500,000, but Ursrey said tobacco farmers are losing $5,000,000 a year because of the stiff tax.

West Berlin School Named for Hoover

BERLIN, Feb. 7 (UP) — The West Berlin city government named a technical high school "The Herbert Hoover School" after the former American president.

Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr., attended the ceremony and read a message from his father saying "there is no greater honor that can come to a man than to have a school named for him."

Law Circuit For Clayton Shy of Votes

A bill to create a separate Clayton County judicial circuit failed to muster enough votes for passage Tuesday in the House.

Rep. Hugh McWhorter of DeKalb said he would ask for reconsideration of the bill Wednesday morning.

The bill would divorce Clayton from the Stone Mountain Judicial Circuit, which also includes DeKalb, Newton and Rockdale counties. It is one of several bills to reorganize courts in the present Stone Mountain circuit.

CITES CALENDAR LAG

Rep. Alvin Foster of Forest Park spoke for the bill, pointing out that Clayton is growing very rapidly and that its courts are already two years behind on their calendar.

When the roll call was taken, an 81-47 vote was recorded in favor of the bill, far short of the required 103 "aye" votes. At the time, many seats were vacant.

The House passed, however, a bill creating two more superior court judgeships in the Fulton Judicial Circuit.

Local area bills introduced in the House Tuesday included:

1. Raising the salary of Fulton Superior Court judges from $16,400 to $17,600 annually and the criminal court judges from $12,000 to $12,600 a year.

FULTON CASH CARRYOVERS

2. Raising the ceiling on cash carryovers from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 a year in the Fulton budget.

3. Requiring the Fulton budget commission to submit a proposed budget to the county commission by Nov. 15 each year.

4. Redefinition of "subdivision" so as to ease restrictions on paving in Fulton subdivision areas.

5. Allowing the sale of Fulton industrial development property without advertisement if recommended by an advisory board.

6. Extending the terms of the mayor and council of Acworth from one year to two years, effective next year.

ATLANTA SCHOOL BONDS

In the Senate, Sen. Everett Millican proposed a constitutional amendment which would allow the City of Atlanta to issue bonds for school-building purposes up to four per cent of the taxable digest.

The proposal, part of the implementation of the Ivey report on the Atlanta schools, would be submitted to the voters of the state for ratification.

Millican also introduced another bill designed to help carry out the Ivey report. He said it will be modified considerably before passage, however, and that it was submitted now just to "get it started."

Gov. Griffin Would Direct Big Bainbridge Port Fund

Gov. Griffin would be authorized to spend $250,000 to construct port facilities at his home town of Bainbridge under a resolution introduced in the House Tuesday.

A similar resolution introduced Tuesday would authorize the governor to spend $250,000 for port facilities at Brunswick.

Resolution No. 188-531c, introduced by Reps. H. Carl Cloudy of Decatur County and R. A. Harrell of Grady County, notes that Bainbridge "will execute a deed to the State of Georgia to approximately 59 acres of land adjacent to the Flint River in Decatur County in order that a port be established."

The resolution declares that a study of the possibilities of developing an inland port in the county "has conclusively shown that the development of a port at that location is highly desirable, and will be of great benefit to the people of Georgia."

Under the measure, Griffin would be authorized to "expend from any available funds" $250,000 to construct buildings, terminals and other port facilities. Upon completion of the facilities, the governor would be authorized to lease the port to the Georgia Ports Authority.

Girl Won't Testify, Atlantan Is Cleared

A Fulton Superior Court jury returned a directed verdict of not guilty on molesting charges against a 42-year-old Atlantan Tuesday after a 13-year-old girl refused to testify.

Visiting Judge George Lilly directed the verdict after the girl said she could not go through with testifying about the charges against William Greer Dunn of 2060 Ruth St., NW.

by Groover and other committee members for his fight, indicated he was satisfied and said he would not push for any further increase.

Lavender's million-dollar increase amendment carried with it a proviso that the Board of Regents will have to allocate $75,000 for research on poultry disease.

Earlier in the day, the House committee approved a net increase of $225,000 in the record $283,000,000 budget bill. This was done by adding a $250,000 item to finance the proposed new statewide probation system and striking out $25,000 allocated the Georgia Citizens Council.

The committee already had beaten down an attempt by Rep. Hugh McWhorter of DeKalb to amend the regular budget to finance the Minimum Foundation Program for Education on a current basis.

However, Rep. Groover said he will offer an amendment on the House floor to put such a provision in the contingent "wish book" section of the appropriation bill.

Major items in the regular section of the appropriations bill include $122,100,000 for common schools, $67,112,014 for highways, $4,750,000 for public health, $18,237,000 for welfare benefits.

Fund Powers Cut Delayed

By M. L. ST. JOHN

Come next January, a move will be made to restore the Legislature's independence by curbing the governor's power over the appropriations bill.

No effort will be made at the current session. The legislators this session will approve the appropriations bill with the provision which delegates financial control to the executive department. Next January, this provision will be eliminated if possible.

Members seem to think it would be like "belling the cat" to stick out their necks with a proposal to keep financial control in the legislative branch of the government. Some say they fear the governor wouldn't like it, though Gov. Griffin, himself, insists his experience as a legislator makes him a friend of the General Assembly and one who understands their problems.

When the attempt is made, legislators hope it will be with the administration's help.

They would pass a resolution which would become effective with the next governor. It would not apply to the current governor's term. Gov. Griffin cannot run for re-election, so it wouldn't affect him at all.

It would be offered, too, by a newly elected General Assembly.

Incidentally, a veteran legislator observed that the people, themselves, are responsible for the senators and representatives bowing to the wishes of the governor.

"The folks at home elect us to be independent," this lawmaker said. "Then, they insist we get roads, schools, parks, etc., from the administration. We go along with some administration proposals, with which we personally disagree, and we get the administration favors. If we defy the administration's wishes and don't get the things our people want, our people do not re-elect us."

May Run for Senate

Some time ago, names of some prominent political leaders were mentioned as possible candidates for the State Senate this year. They included Tom Linder, Jim Gillis, M. E. Thompson, Charlie Gowen, Jim Peters and Dixon Oxford (Oxford having already been nominated in a county primary).

Add to that list this one:

Former Federal Judge Neil Andrews. He may run from LaFayette in Walker County.

Panel Okays Bill Against Nuptial Mills

A House-passed bill aimed at eliminating marriage mills on the Georgia-Tennessee line was amended and recommended for passage Tuesday by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The original bill provided that marriage licenses be issued only by ordinaries and that they be issued only between the hours of 6 a.m. and midnight.

The amendments would permit an ordinary's clerk to issue licenses in a city if the clerk lived in a city larger than the county seat. Another amendment would permit an ordinary to appoint a deputy provided the deputy resided in the same militia district as the county seat.

Rep. Albert Campbell of Walker County said the amendments do not destroy the effectiveness of the bill. They would not affect his county, which includes the town of Rossville, where thousands of licenses are issued around the clock.

Campbell said this bill replaces another bill he had introduced requiring a three-day waiting period for marriage licenses.

of microfilming more records to save storage space; require fertilizer inspection at the plants, thereby reducing the number of inspectors; and reduce the number of court reports given to counties.

The House passed a bill requiring that leases of state property running for more than one year be ratified by the Senate.

A move will be made in the Senate Wednesday to reduce the appropriation of the Citizens Council from $25,000 to $10,000—and change its name—rather than abolish the council.

The educational fiscal agent bill was passed by substitute. Sponsors said it would not empower the officer to hire and fire and fix salaries, but would make him a financial adviser to the board. Rep. Bill Bodenhamer of Tift, a board member, fought the bill. Sen. Herschel Lovett of Dublin, another board member, favors it.

Junior Discovers Seniority

All Earl Wooten has known all his life is basketball in the winter and baseball the rest of the year. He came to the Chattanooga Lookouts in 1944 so young and babyish that Joe Engel began to call him Junior. He has never been anything else.

Today, 12 years later, the Junior in Wooten is gone. He wakes up one day and gets acquainted with a feeling he never knew before. He finds himself a man without a ball club. Earl Mann has decided the Crackers can't find a place at Ponce de Leon Park for him next season.

Bisher

Wooten turned, as a wanderer will, to his professional homestead. But Engel told him Chattanooga is going with kids in '56, kids like Don Grate, Bruce Barmes and Roy Hawes.

"That's where I stand now," Wooten said Tuesday. "I want to play. I still think I can play, but you can't play if you haven't got a team. I'm supposed to get my free agency in a few days. I'm going to try again. If I can't play in the Southern League, though, I'm not going to play at all. I've never played below double A before. It's too late to start now. I'll stay right where I am."

Wooten was talking from the YMCA at Piedmont Mills in Piedmont, S.C. These are changing times for the eternal youth. Many years he played basketball for the Pelzer Mills team a few miles away. This season he switched academies, but all the while maintained the same high scoring standards. He has been averaging over 25 points per game, and while something short of the grand Wooten season when 40-point nights were the custom, he will not charge an ounce of his retreat to the years.

"Let's face it," he said playfully. "I'm still the same, great all-round offensive threat I have always been."

—Like Crackers Without Cheese

The switch from Pelzer to Piedmont required no change in residence. Wooten lives where he always has lived—in neither place. Home is Williamston, with facilities separate but equal to the other two neighboring municipalities.

Doesn't it come as a sort of mental jar to discover that at age 32 and after many seasons of good, enjoyable baseball living nobody seems to want you?

"Well, I don't think I'm quite washed up," Junior said. "If I'm still able to score 25 points a night playing basketball I think I can play baseball for somebody in that league. I'd rather play in Atlanta than any place. I'd hoped I could come back as a player-coach. I did a pretty good job for Whitlow Wyatt two years ago.

"That was the biggest kick I ever got out of baseball, that Dixie Series season. I gave the Crackers everything I had for four years. Nobody can say I didn't. I had kinda hoped they'd give me one more chance this year."

The Crackers without Wooten will seem sort of like crackers without cheese. He had been around Ponce de Leon Park so long he had become as familiar as a piece of living room furniture. He had the good fortune to be absent with leave while the dismal season of '55 was clanking to a miserable seventh-place ending. Wooten was managing the Greenville, S.C., club of the Tri-State League.

—Bobo's Unwilling Hand Servant

"Managing's not such a bad life," Junior said, "but managing and playing ain't for me. Either one was bad enough in that league. It was a four-team league and every time you turned around you found yourself playing the same team. Then there were some times we didn't know if we'd be playing at all. One team lost so much money it finished the season with two pitchers."

Since Wooten has been going off to spring training in '44 he has come home with a Southern Association club nine times. Once he went to Washington and stuck the entire season as utility man. Once he went to Kansas City, but he was back in Chattanooga after a couple of weeks. Last season he went to Greenville.

The rest of the time he has been Southern Association property. It's sort of like a parent disowning a child to send Junior away, or leave him unemployed.

Remember the days Chattanooga writers claimed he was the greatest center-fielder since Tris Speaker? Remember when Washington said it was only a matter of time before he worked for the big team? But he never had the hitting power.

He did have Bobo Newsom in his corner. Wooten was like a kitten to the St. Bernard-ish Newsom. Bobo took a fancy to the boyish tow-head, but often the fancy came out, as it would with Bobo, in odd manner. In those days Clark Griffith had ordered Wooten to stay off the basketball court. Griff may as well have ordered Bobo to give up late hours, golf and beer. Wooten played on.

One day Newsom showed up with a bundle of Greenville papers full of reports on Wooten's basketball successes. "You do what I tell you this spring," he rasped, "or I'll show these papers to Griff." For the rest of the training season Wooten was virtually Bobo's slave, an unwilling but always submissive hand servant.

Georgia Signs Posey As Butts Turns 51

Wally Says Grid Staff Set; Griffith Still Felt in Picture

By JESSE OUTLAR
Constitution Sports Writer

ATHENS, Feb. 7—Wallace Butts celebrated his 51st birthday Tuesday by adding Wyatt Posey to the University of Georiga coaching staff.

After signing the former Bulldog tackle, the Georgia head coach and athletic director ended speculation about coaching changes by saying his staff was set for 1956.

"We aren't planning on anyone else leaving," he said, "and I haven't talked to anyone else about coming here."

However, there still appears to be a possibility that Johnny Griffith, former Georgia halfback and now an assistant at Furman, will return to his alma mater.

"I am very pleased that Posey has decided to leave Texas Tech and accept our offer," Butts said. "He should prove a great asset to our staff."

Butts refused to give Posey a specific title, in keeping with his new policy of referring to all his aides merely as assistant coaches. Posey, of course, will work with the Bulldog linemen.

Posey's return to his alma mater, first announced in the Constitution Monday, marks the third coaching change at Georgia in less than a week.

Freshman Coach Spec Landrum started the chain of events by resigning last Friday, and varsity assistant Quinton Lumpkin was then named head freshman coach.

"I don't have to tell you I'm happy to be back," Posey said. "It's been my ambition ever since I left Georgia as a player to return as a coach."

Posey, a farmer boy from Headland, Ala., was steered to Georgia as a gangling freshman by Johnny Broadnax in 1937.

A year later Butts arrived as end coach, a season which Posey spent on the Red Shirts. He then earned a starting berth on Butts' first Bulldog edition in 1939. He was a star tackle on Butts' and Georgia's first bowl team, the powerful outfit that thrashed TCU in the Orange Bowl in 1942.

After receiving his diploma, Posey entered the Army and received the Bronze Star and Purple Heart while serving with General Patton's Third Army in Germany.

He launched his coaching career as head coach at South Georgia College in 1947. After three successful seasons, he moved on to Yale as one of Herman Hickman's assistants in 1950.

He then joined DeWitt Weaver's Texas Tech staff in '51 and remained there as line coach until Tuesday. Texas Tech played in three bowls during Posey's stay there.

Posey will take over the Georgia tackle corps in spring drills. Jim Whatley, who has been handling the tackles, will miss the spring session due to the late April starting date. Whatley is the head baseball coach. Whatley will return to grid duties next fall.

Gavilan Loser as Fans Boo

Foe Is Bloody But Unbowed

LONDON, Feb. 7 (AP) — Peter Waterman, unbeaten British youngster, won a widely booed decision over former welterweight champion Kid Gavilan of Cuba tonight as 11,000 Britons roared their disapproval of the verdict. Gavilan weighed 147½, Waterman 147¼ pounds.

The 21-year-old Briton, who reads Homer, paints landscapes and likes a night at the ballet, had his arm lifted in triumph by Referee Ben Green amidst a storm of protest. The booing and catcalls lasted for 10 minutes.

The Associated Press score card gave Gavilan a 6-2-2 edge in rounds. In England, the referee is the sole official and his scoring is not revealed.

It was Waterman's 32d pro fight. He has been held to one draw while winning the others. This was his first 10-round test. He had been beaten as an amateur, losing in the second series of eliminations in the 1952 Olympics at Helsinki when he was a "light" welterweight (140 pounds).

Gavilan was on the downgrade in 1955, losing to Hector Constance and Bobby Dykes and dropping two decisions in South America. He held the welter title from May 18, 1951, until he was defeated by Johnny Saxton, Oct. 20, 1954.

The 30-year-old Cuban, making his first appearance in a British ring, drew blood from Waterman's nose in the first round.

Auburn Tames Tech, 77-74, As McGriff Fires Comeback

Tiger Soph Hits for 28

By MICKEY LOGUE
Constitution Sports Writer

AUBURN, Ala., Feb. 7—Big Bill McGriff shot out everything but the lights in a remarkable closing rally Tuesday night that saw Auburn cut Georgia Tech down at the overtime wire, 77-74.

The furious Southeastern Conference struggle was knotted, 65-65, at the end of regulation play.

For the Tigers, it was a satisfying victory coming on the heels of their last-minute loss to Kentucky Saturday night. For the Jackets, whose splendid efforts apparently had the game stashed away early, it was a disheartening loss.

With 10 minutes showing on the sports arena clock, Tech owned a 16-point bulge, 61-45.

The shooting of Lenny Cohen and captain Bobby Kimmel, plus timely points by little Joe Helms, had put Tech in command with time in its favor.

But that was when the slender 6-7 sophomore from the hills of north Alabama found his shooting eye. McGriff, who couldn't hit the backboard in the first half, couldn't miss the bottom of the basket in the last few minutes.

He sank 12 points in the final frame and four in overtime to pull the Plainsmen to victory. His 24 was also the night's high for individual marksmen.

After a see-saw first half, which saw the lead change 17 times and Tech grab a 35-33 margin at intermission, coach Whack Hyder's lads threatened to make it a rout in the last 20 minutes.

Kimmel, who paced the Jackets with 19 points, and Lenny Cohen, runnerup at 17, joined Helms, a 14-point man, in firing Tech ahead 49-43 after 6:48. It took only four minutes to push the margin to 59-43.

Center Dick Lenholt, who went strong for a half before his weakened ankle forced him to withdraw, collected 10 points and nine rebounds to keep Tech in the early chase. Lane Akers, a guard starter, cashed in four of five field goal attempts in the first half.

Tech took Auburn on the boards, 43-36, and hit 28 of 58 shots from the floor (49 per cent), while the Tigers were getting 26 of 63 (41 per cent). Auburn sank 25 of 31 free throws and the Jackets hit 18 of 28.

Despite their domination of statistics, however, the lads from the Flats were unable to stop Auburn's last ditch surge.

When Captain Jim O'Donnell and guard Henry Sturkie exceeded their foul quotas with 7:45 and 5:02 left, the Plainsmen's position became precarious indeed. But McGriff, aided by Brownie Nelson, a 14-point hitter, Kay Slayden, with 17 and subs Jim Diamond and Terry Chandler locked the count at 65-65 with 2:04 left.

Nobody scored again before the time ran out.

Early in the overtime McGriff sank a southpaw hook and a long one-hander, and Diamond hit a crip to give Auburn a 71-65 lead that was never headed.

Bulldogs Play Mercer Seeking 'One' for Road

Improved Georgians Face Bears With Gleaton Now on Cage Beam

Special to The Constitution

MACON, Feb. 7—The University of Georgia, which has not won a road game all season, seeks to break that streak against one of only two teams it has beaten this campaign, Mercer, here Wednesday night.

Gametime in the Mercer gym is 8 p.m. following a preliminary between the Mercer "B" team and Brewton Parker Junior College at 6.

Curtis Gleaton

Just because Georgia's improved Bulldogs have already beaten Mercer, they don't take this non-conference affair lightly. The Bears are always terrors in their own den and last season, after losing to Georgia by 20 points in Athens, rebounded for a two-point victory in the return.

This season, Georgia could only beat the Bears by three points, 75-72, in Athens although Georgia led at one point by a wide margin and substituted freely at the close.

However, this is an improved Georgia team, one that snapped a 10-game losing streak by routing Florida and then played Vanderbilt all the way before bowing Saturday, 69-56.

Georgia now stands 2-12 for the year and has lost all seven games played away from home. Mercer is 9-7 and will be at a decided height disadvantage Wednesday.

This was the difference in the previous meeting when husky Bill Ensley dominated both the scoring with 28 points and the rebounding. Ensley will be in the lineup again with Coach Red Lawson's "set" starting group of forwards Henry Cabaniss and Curtis Gleaton and guards Morris Dinwiddie and Don Hartsfield.

Starters for Mercer will be Bobby Graham and Woody Richardson at forwards, Cary Moore at center and Joe Lowe and Roger Bolton at guards. Richardson scored 24 points and Moore 21 against Georgia in Athens.

One of the brightest notes for Georgia recently has been the inspired play of Gleaton; the junior college graduate. Gleaton appears to have found his shooting eye again and forgotten that he ever broke his arm last summer. He's mixing it up under the boards and scored a season's high of 20 points against Vanderbilt.

Murphy Captures Title, Hands Bulldogs Rare Home-Court Loss

Crutchfield Is Game Saver

By CHARLIE ROBERTS

Coach Morris Phelps' Murphy Eagles Tuesday night accomplished what only three other basketball teams have managed in the last eight seasons. They defeated a North Fulton quintet in its own gym.

The 69-64 triumph before a turn-away throng of 1,384 customers was the most important in Murphy's basketball history. It clinched the school's first Northern Division City League cage championship. It was the Eagles' 19th victory in 20 outings and avenged their only setback of the year, a 68-67 overtime defeat administered by the Bulldogs Jan. 17 on Murphy flooring.

The only other defeats suffered by North Fulton's varsity cagers on their own hardwood in the last eight seasons were meted out by Grady in 1955, Jordan in 1951 and Decatur in 1950.

The game, as expected, was of sensational order, and Fred Fussell's Bulldogs were not goners until the final 10 seconds were upcoming. The score was knotted only five times, but the lead changed hands 19 times, nine in a torrid third period.

The foul shooting was the most brilliant seen in any Region 3-AA game here in years, the teams missing only 10 of 49 charity chunks. Murphy, which last time outscored North Fulton by 16 points via field goals but lost at the foul line, atoned for that laxness by dropping in 19 of 23 tries. The Bulldogs hit 20 of 26.

Murphy bagged 25 fielders in 74 shots for a 35 per cent average, compared to 22 of 64 for 34 per cent by the Bulldogs.

Heroes were many for Murphy, but Clyde Mynatt and Vance Rankin, a pair of the slickest guards out of captivity, were sorethumb stickouts for the losing "Iron-Man" five. Mynatt fired nine fielders and seven of nine charity tosses for 25 points and high honors. Rankin, shooting from outside like Mynatt, swished net on seven field shots and four fouls for 18 points.

Speedster-magician Myron Moore, who flipped in 13 of his 19 points in the final half, and floor-master Norman King, who had 16, were Murphy's overall stickouts.

But Doug Hatcher, who tossed in six of seven foul tries in the final quarter, and 6-4 sub Bob Crutchfield were the game savers. Crutchfield hit eight points and was magnificent under the boards after 6-4 Milton McRee fouled out with five and a half minutes left.

Murphy went ahead to stay at 53-52 midway the final quarter.

North Fulton's girls won the thrilling curtain lifter, 49-46, as Carol Deal, Karol Anne Kahrs and Susan Bennett scored 22, 17 and 10 points. Murphy's Patsy Garner had 21, Carol Watrous 13, Dinah L'Heureux 10.

Northside's Tigers defeated West Fulton High in both ends of a double-header Tuesday night at Northside. The boys won 79-59, scoring 24 points in the last quarter, and Northside's girls remained unbeaten with a 44-28 victory in the opener.

West Fulton took an early lead in the first quarter and was in front, 41-39 at the intermission. The Owls made 13 foul shots good out of 18 tries in the first half and held Northside to 13 field goals and 11 fouls out of 17 tries.

Marvin Tibbetts with 16 and Calvin Wall with 14 points paced West Fulton.

Sylvan Stems Tide For City South Title

Duvall and Shell Sparkle As Bears Explode, 44-37

By MACK STEPHENS

Carl Duvall and Earl Shell ignited a slow burning Sylvan fuse in the second half that exploded for a 44-37 victory over Roosevelt's Tide, and in doing so, Sylvan clinched its second straight Southern division 3-AA crown.

Dulcie Williford's 29 points won the opener for Sylvan's girls, 39-32. Her efforts combined with the backboard work of Sandra May countered Peggy Childre's 18-point high for Roosevelt.

Ozzie Wadewitz's Golden Bears came from behind a 23-21 halftime deficit to win their ninth straight league game. Duvall, Shell, Sammy Chester and Posey Davis all dropped in 10. But it was Duvall's eight and Shell's six in the final half that stopped a Tide that was intent on marring Sylvan's slate.

Duvall dropped in a two-pointer that tied the game at 23-all early in the second half. Teammate Clifford Cleveland then connected on a longie from the side, and Duvall added two more on a twist and turn shot for a 27-23 Sylvan lead.

After Roosevelt's Bobbie Gramling pulled the Tide nearer to Sylvan, 32-33, Shell hit on a long one that gave the Bears a 35-32 third-quarter lead.

Sylvan's Posey Davis sank in four of his total in the fourth quarter to keep the Tide at bay. Charles Butler was high for Roosevelt with 10. Roosevelt and Sylvan both hit for 60 per cent from the free throw line, with the Tide making six of 10, and the Bears nine of 15. But the difference was 14 Roosevelt field goals to Sylvan's 19.

But Decatur's Don (Shooting) Fired 16 to Lead Victory

Big Decatur Rally Tops Russell, 40-37

Bulldogs Hand Wildcats First Loss in Region 4-AA

By MORT PERSKY

In one riot-filled final period Tuesday night, Decatur's Bulldogs doubled their three-quarter score and did something no Decatur team has done in at least seven winters, or as long as Charlie Aldridge has been basketball coach at Russell.

They beat Russell, 40-37, with a driving rally that brought them back from a miserable three-point third period and a nine-point deficit, and they did it at the East Pointers' home court to boot.

The victory boosted Decatur's stock for next week's Region 4-AA tournament by bringing their league record to 6-2 and marring Russell's hitherto perfect 7-0 slate.

Pat Meyer scored the first 16 Decatur points and 15 more after that to lead a 43-37 girls' victory in the middle game of the triple-header. Decatur's B team launched the clean sweep that followed by grabbing a 42-35 decision.

Don Keiser slammed in four goals from four different angles to start Decatur's feverish fourth, and by the time his fourth direct hit made it 31-33 Russell, both stands were screaming with equal anxiety. Decatur had trailed, 20-29, when the quarter began.

The screaming never let up, and neither did Decatur in those final two minutes that made the difference. Alfred Mason, way off his recent form until this stanza began, delivered one of his long jumps to tie it at 35-35 (1:30 left). Harold McDonald hit two free throws for Russell, but Jerry Abbott retaliated with another long jump (:55 left), and Rodger Couch gave Decatur a 37-35 lead with two foul shots (:45 left).

McDonald and Mason foul each other and both cash their singles. McDonald is fouled but he misses, Decatur gets the rebound and Mason is fouled. He makes both of 'em (40-36 with :10 left), and Russell's hopes are dead. But Jack Beckham lures one last foul and sinks the single to give the Wildcats their 37th point four seconds before the buzzer.

Keiser led Decatur with 16 points and McDonald topped Russel with 14.

| Decatur (40) | | Russell (37) |
|---|---|---|
| Couch (4) | F | Quinn (5) |
| Mason (12) | F | Hudgins (9) |
| Keiser (16) | C | Haney |
| R. Pharr | G | Kortes |
| Abbott (2) | G | McDonald (14) |

Score at half: Russell 29, Decatur 20.

Subs: Decatur—Bothwell (4), DeFoor (2). Russell—McDuffie (1), Parker (4), Beckham (4).

MURPHY WINS GAME, FIGHT CALLED A DRAW

Murphy High School won a basketball game with North Fulton Tuesday night, but police were undecided as to which side was winner in a free-for-all that followed the game.

Ptl. B. L. Anderson and E. W. Mooty said the mixup started when one player reportedly cursed at another as the game ended. Fists flew between the players, officers said, and spectators joined in.

At one time, officers estimated, between 200 and 300 were embroiled in the battle in the North Fulton gymnasium.

The disturbance was quelled with no injuries more serious than bruises, officers said. No charges were made. Officers said displinary action, would be left to the discretion of school authorities.

GG Lineup Is Revamped

A practice injury suffered by light-heavyweight Cary Bynum has necessitated some shuffling on the Georgia Golden Gloves boxing squad that leaves for Nashville Monday for the Southeastern eliminations.

Jimmy Sikes of the Atlanta Boys Club, the 1956 middleweight champion, has been moved up a notch to battle in the light-heavy classification, according to Al Bishop, state AAU boxing director.

To fill Sikes' gloves in the middle class, officials have added Dewey Conner, '55 welter champ who was decisioned by Columbus' Charles Harbour this year. Conner fought in Others making the trip next week are Al Pruitt, flyweight; Ted Morgan, bantam; Ken Pruitt, feather; Harbour, light, and Lamar Mitchell, heavyweight.

Chamblees Open Bid In 4-A Play

Not a seeded team in sight on opening night, but as likely a championship candidate as any takes the Russell High court Wednesday evening when Chamblee runs into Westminster at 6:30 in the first game of the first round of Region 4-A West's first tournament in two years.

The Chamblee club, paced by pestiferous Eddie Grider, big Terry Parker and long-throwing Henry Schutte, missed the boat on byes because of a so-so record in "seeded" games, but they're probably the strongest of six contenders on view Wednesday.

Campbell of Smyrna and Campbell of Fairburn battle it out at 8 p.m. in what may be the night's best match, and College Park tangles with Avondale at 9:30.

Echols, Ballard Lead Smith Over Southwest

By MILLARD J. POSEY

Smith High, led by big Lamar Echols and Don Ballard, tightened their grip on second place in the City League's Southern Division by taking a rugged 80-70 decision over third-place Southwest in a hard-fought contest Tuesday night at Southwest.

In a bitter battle which saw a near-fight and several technical fouls in the final quarter, Smith moved its divisional record to 7-2 and dropped Southwest to a 5-4 league mark. Smith beat SW, 67-58, in an early-season encounter.

The game was won, actually, in the second period, when the Smithies outscored the Wolves 26 points to 10, to give Smith a 44-25 halftime bulge. Ballard got 13 in the first half and Echols 15.

A third-quarter rally led by Neil Gore and Bill Archer narrowed the Smith lead to 10 points, a 59-49 third-stanza margin. In the final period, Archer and Mike Sims brought the Smith edge down to eight points, but Gene Gregory, Jerry Schram and Ballard hit quick clinchers which put the game on ice for the Smithies, 80-70.

In the girls' encounter, Southwest avenged an earlier defeat by taking a 70-59 decision. Martha Tovell's 35 points led the Southwest girls, and Barbara Harper's 28 were high for Smith.

|---|---|---|
| Ballard (24) | F | Gore (15) |

Grady Bops Bass, 80-48

By PAUL SENFT

Grady High had its Saye in the first quarter, and after that everybody on the team put in his two cents' worth as the Grey Knights hammered Bass, 80-48, before an approving crowd in the Grady gym.

Forward Earl Saye bucketed 10 points in that opening stanza and the Knights shot ahead, 21-6, using a fast break and a devastating series of jump shots to rack up their biggest score of the season.

Molly Brown tossed in 22 points for the Grady girls as they marked up a 41-23 victory in the opener. Jane Jones scored 13 for Bass.

Bass had the high scorer in the afterpiece, though like Grady, they used substitutes generously. Joe Thompson tallied 23 for No. 1 honors, getting six more than Grady guard Eddie Brandt. Brandt, only Knight to play the whole game, scored 17.

Saye wound up with 12 points and so did his fellow-forward, Park Turner.

| Grady (80) | | Bass (48) |
|---|---|---|
| Turner (12) | F | Brown (6) |
| Saye (12) | F | T. Smith (22) |
| Bourne (7) | C | Thompson (6) |
| Brandt (17) | G | Hamlet |
| McConkey (5) | G | Mathews (3) |

Score at half: Grady 44, Bass 19.

Tucker Beats Clarkston

Tucker's boys downed Clarkson, 46-34, here Tuesday night, and Tucker's girls wound up in first place in District 5B play by defeating the Clarkston lassies, 58-44.

Following a first half of tight defensive play which ended in a 12-12 score, Tucker, led by forward Don Weed, forged ahead. Weed, with 19 points, and guard Gary Moon each played an outstanding game.

Roy Sparks, who came in for the Tucker Tigers as a substitute, led Tiger scoring with 11 points.

Carolyn Webb scored 36 points for the Tiger girls, and Joyce Cottingham scored 21 points for the Angoras.

THE WESTMINSTER WAY

By Hook or Crip, Whitsel Scores 'Em

Joyce Whitsel pivots and hooks. If she misses, as likely as not teammate Pam Patterson has taken it on the bounce and shot again.

If Pam misses, on her shot or on the rebound, Bena Broyles and Lyn Brown and Jerry Smith can be depended on to hold down offensive activity across the court. Soon the ball comes hurtling back across the line and Joyce Calhoun, one of two seniors on this team, drives in to score.

That is the Westminster way, as taught by Coach Loren Young and executed by a starting six with more than adequate height, talent and speed. And plenty of youth, too.

That 16-1 record they posted this year can fool you, but Young's team is young, all right. Whitsel, the hook shot artist, is only a junior. So is Bena Broyles, the guard whose hands are as quick as those of a major league shortstop, take Young's word for it.

Jerry Smith, another guard, is a freshman, and Joyce Calhoun is a junior. Those are the starters for Thursday night's tournament game with the Hapeville-Chamblee winner.

Whitsel, of course, is Westminster's pride. She has averaged 23 points a game with a pivot shot so good it has kept 6-1 Patterson at a side forward post. Since Whitsel is five inches shorter, that's quite an achievement.

But side-forward doesn't hamper Patterson's rebounding, and she scores about 12 or 13 a game. Calhoun, who claimed Laura Hay's position when Laura was sick, never relinquished it. She gets about 15 and has been high scorer three times.

Hay and guard Carol Gregory now head the relief unit for this team that is looking not only for a repeat 4-A West championship, but the regional title they missed last year as well.

Hoppe To Left Half As Tiger Drills Open

Macon's Billy Kitchens Moves Up at Right Half

By MICKEY LOGUE
Constitution Sports Writer

AUBURN, Ala., Feb. 7—The Chattanooga Choo-Choo steamed back into an old station, clearing the track for the Macon Express Tuesday afternoon as Chief Engineer Ralph Jordan launched spring football practice under sunny skies here.

With an eye toward better balance and efficiency in the backfield, Jordan switched junior Bobby Hoppe from right halfback—where he started in 1955—to left—where he starred in Tennessee high school days.

Peach Stater Billy Kitchens, a left-half as a redshirt last season, passed Hoppe en route, shifting to the vacated right-half position.

After recovering from a knee injury incurred early in the campaign, Hoppe made continual progress throughout the remainder of the season, probably reaching his year's peak with a flashy showing against Clemson.

Though the 5-11, 175-pound bullet turned in the team's third best '55 rushing mark, netting 256 yards for 6-1 per carry, he did not fulfill the "all-the-way" promise of his freshman days.

Jordan and assistants believe returning to the slot he knows best may put Hoppe in high gear.

"All Hoppe's experience other than last year, involved running to his right from left half," Jordan said. "And we feel the change will give him a chance to use his natural ability to better advantage."

The switch didn't materialize last year because Auburn was short at right half and had Fob James at left.

The swap also was a defensive measure. In Auburn's defensive strategy, the left half plays the safety slot. And Hoppe, fastest man on the squad, can be used to maximum advantage hauling back punts and kickoffs.

While the change should help Hoppe's play, it won't hinder Kitchens, who goes equally well from either side, or up the middle. The 5-9, 170-pound Macon lad packs more power per pound than any other Tiger back.

Tommy Lorino, brilliant soph from Bessemer, and Louis Preis provide Hoppe's top competition. Juniors George Grider and soph Jimmy Laseter, Covington, Ga., will apply the pressure to Kitchens.

TIGER SCRATCHES: Coach Jordan, before welcoming 72 grid aspirants on a day made to order for football by the weather man, said "developing a lot of young players and finding regulars to replace the five graduating starters" was a prime target for the drills. In the same breath, he made it clear that none of the returning first stringers had a lock on their jobs. . . . Tennessee's Volunteers, Auburn's first '56 football assignment, are also a main objective of the off-season practice. "You can't learn about the single wing by talking about it," Jordan said, "so we're going to form a single-wing team for our boys to see and play against." . . . Jordan, too, said he wouldn't be averse to returning to the two-platoon system, so successful in 1953, if quality in quantity should show up. . . . It was definitely an open practice as little Jimmy Thompson will testify. The Georgia Tech speedster, down for the Tech-Auburn basketball game, appeared very interested in the goings-on in the Tiger camp, as he chatted with baseballer Jim Pyburn of the Baltimore Orioles on the sidelines.

Jordan's Anderson Presses Baker's Darrah

Special to The Constitution

COLUMBUS, Feb. 7—Billy Anderson, Jordan High's 6-4 pivot ace, racked up 27 points in a 79-62 victory over R. E. Lee last week and moved into a virtual tie with Baker's Tommy Darrah for the Region 1-AA high school basketball individual scoring leadership.

The Jordan victory not only moved Coach Herschel Jones' winners into second place in the loop standings but gave ringleader Anderson a 21.22-per-game average with 191 points in nine outings and made his team an almost surety for a berth in the state AA tournament, set for Feb. 22-25 at the Atlanta City Auditorium under co-sponsorship of The Atlanta Constitution.

Darrah hit only 16 points against LaGrange, the Lions' only 1-AA game of the week, and has an infinitesimal lead over the Jordan High boy. Darrah has 234 points in 11 league games or a 21-27 average. Ironically, Darrah broke his school's individual scoring record by hitting 37 in an 87-63 victory over West Fulton last week. But the points did not count in region play. Carlton Garner held the old Baker mark of 35, a figure he tagged in 1953.

Darrah this year has tallied 32 against Albany, 30 against Lanier and 27 against Albany. Anderson bagged 27 and 27 against Lanier, the same number against Lee and 25 against LaGrange.

Wayne Copeland of LaGrange moved back into third place in the race by strafing the nets for 31 against Lanier and upping his average to 18.3.

Rain Makes Fine Day For Rounds' Eagle

By Bert Prather

The 445-yard 14th hole at Meadowbrooks Country Club is rated a real par-four toughie. Dr. George Rounds had always agreed with other members that this was true until last Saturday.

Bert Prather

Braving the rain, Doc, J. C. Herrington and Cortez Suttles, only players to venture on the course Saturday, were just having ordinary success with the soggy layout until Dr. Rounds went to "bat" on 14.

He lashed out a fairly good drive, but of course, it struck where it landed, leaving him a good strong two iron to the green. All he hoped to do was get on, but the ball trickled into the cup for an eagle deuce. And then the celebration started.

As far as Meadowbrooks old timers can remember, this is the first two ever recorded on the hole.

Bill Hoge also made a pretty good country shot for an eagle two on No. 2 at Druid Hills. Bill, playing in company with Ed Henning, Ed Hauser and Joe Schuman, sent a seven iron second home for his deuce.

CHIP SHOTS: West End regular, Corn White, playing in a fivesome Tuesday with West End pro Charlie Edwards, Bob Morris, Max Mayo and Bill Teague, missed the green on the par three 8th hole. Things looked bad for Corn's side since he was down the bank in the rough and had a blind shot to the stick. But ole Corn yanked out his wedge, lofted the ball into the hole for a birdie deuce. . . . Gene Dahlbender Jr., who won the Southern Amateur in 1948 at Capital City CC, is getting his game sharpened up for the Dogwood and '56 Amateur, which will be played at Druid Hills, under the watchful eye of DH's Charlie Miller. Gene had a 35 on the front nine at the Dogwood layout Tuesday afternoon.

Walter (Pop) Herrington, grand old gentleman of Atlanta publinx golf, celebrated his 77th birthday last Sunday. . . . Abe Massar, Dave Pollard, Emmett Wilson, Rags Ragsdale Norman Carr and Tracy Bronson, didn't let Saturday's rain keep them from their "game" at Bobby Jones. They five and six-putted the water-logged greens but made it for nine holes. . . . Northside and North Fulton golf team candidates were flocking over North Fulton course Tuesday. . . . Mrs. Millie Read, president of North Fulton Women's Golf Assn., is looking for a big turnout for Wednesday's play day. . . . Watts Gunn, Billy Street, Tommy Barnes and Ernest Harrison came up with a plus two to take East Lake's Sunday dogfite.

Claude Perry of the local Associated Press bureau, salvaged a birdie three on No. 4 at North Fulton when it appeared he was in for a big fat six. Claude thought his second shot had rolled over the green and into the lake, so he hit a provisional. When he looked for his original ball, he found it hanging on the side of the bank. Taking out his wedge, Claude knocked it squarely in the cup for his bird. He was playing with brother Norman Perry. . . . Nathan Kahn Jr., slammed in a four iron for an eagle on the par four No. 6 hole at Standard Town and Country Club while partners S. S. Selig Jr., L. G. Sherman, Herbert Cohen and Frank Lesser looked on.

TECH ADDS MORRIS, GOSSAGE

Ecker, Christy, Johnson Face Shifts; 16 To Skip Spring Drills

By LARRY FOX

There'll be plenty of young faces out on Rose Bowl Field when Georgia Tech convenes for spring practice next month, including two new student assistant coaches and some old hands in new spots, Coach Bobby Dodd revealed Tuesday.

Although Tech graduates less than half a dozen first-line troops from last year's Sugar Bowl championship team, "we'll have one of our most inexperienced groups in a long time out for spring practice," Dodd said.

The reason is that no less than 16 members of what promises to be next season's top 22 will be excused from spring work. They are mostly rising seniors and others who have spring sport talent.

"We plan to concentrate on our sophomores and B-team graduates and do a lot of coaching on them," Dodd said, "because next year we lose a great many boys and we must have men ready who can play."

The early excusal list includes quarterbacks Wade Mtichell and Toppy Vann; left halfbacks Stan Flowers, Paul Rotenberry and Johnny Menger; right halfbacks George Volkert and Jimmy Thompson; fullbacks Ken Owen and Dickie Mattison and possibly Dick Gookin; guard Allen Ecker; tackles Ormand Anderson, Carl Vereen, Frank Christy and Ken Thrash, and end Don Ellis.

Three new position changes are now being planned by the Tech coaching staff although two may have to wait until next fall to be consumated.

Most definite switch will have Ecker, an outstanding Atlanta senior, move from right guard to left to replace graduating Franklin Brooks. Big difference for Ecker will be on defense where he will now back up the line.

Starting March 26, the opening of spring drills, center-fullback Jimmy Johnson will report to work with the guards. He, too, will be on the left side where his linebacking skill can be utilized. This is one of those changes that depends not only on how well Johnson does at guard but how well Don Stephenson and friends do at center.

Third move will have Christy, a Bessemer, Ala., lad take a crack at guard for his final year of eligibility. Christy has given away some 30 pounds in his regular duel with Carl Vereen for a starting tackle job and requested a chance to earn first-string rating at another spot. His move not only depends on how well he does at guard but whether Vereen makes the Olympic team as a discus thrower and skips next season for a trip to Australia.

Dodd emphasized that both Christy and Johnson would play in the top 22 no matter what their position.

The new student assistants for spring practice are graduating captain and center Jimmy Morris and graduating tackle Tommy Gossage. Morris is from Vicksburg, Miss., Gossage from Nashville.

THE CLIPBOARD: Although only a rising junior, Flowers has been excused from spring practice to run on the track team. Vereen, of course, will compete in track, too. . . . Gookin will get off from practice if he votes to go out for baseball, which regularly claims Menger. . . . Anderson may appear at spring practice for light work anyway to keep in shape but will not be scrimmaged. So, too, may Christy turn out to get a start at his new position.

They Torqued it up for the BEST TAKE-OFF YET

FIRST THING you need in a car, of course, is power to spark performance.

And you get that in a 1956 Buick in plenty – from big 322-cubic-inch V8 engines that hit new highs in horsepower and compression.

But the power under the hood must be carried to the rear driving wheels in the form of twisting force on the drive shaft.

That's torque – the end-product of your transmission.

And the higher the torque build-up – the greater the "torque multiplication," the better the getaway and response.

So if you want to feel take-off that leaves your breath behind you, come try a '56 Buick with Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

For in this airplane-principled transmission, Buick engineers raised the ceiling on torque to give you the best getaway yet.

They did it with something they call "double regeneration" – a new way to make flowing oil add to its own velocity.

And when you use the full torque of a Buick beauty like the one pictured above, you're using the highest torque multiplication to be had in any standard-production American automobile today.

Come see for yourself what that means in new thrills and new safety.

You'll find brilliant new getaway response in the first inch of pedal travel – plus greater gas mileage to boot.

You'll find an electrifying new full-power safety-surge when you floor the pedal and switch the pitch.

And you'll find this spectacular performance blended into the smoothest-traveling, sweetest-riding, easiest-handling Buicks yet built. Drop in on us this week – today, if you can—and judge things firsthand.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century – optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

†Standard on Roadmaster and Super, optional at extra cost on other Series.

adopted a resolution tonight denouncing "mob violence," and urging that "means be taken to protect the future personal safety of the students and faculty and the reputation of the university."

The resolution was introduced by Dennis Holt, Birmingham.

"The university is not going to be run by the White Citizens Council or the Ku Klux Klan," the student legislator declared.

"The great majority of them (the demonstrators) were not university students," said Holt.

Miss Lucy told newsmen she was "still determined to attend the university" and said her attorney had wired university officials threatening "further legal action" if she was not back on the campus Thursday morning.

Miss Lucy was excluded by the board of trustees "until further notice" last night following a series of demonstrations by students and outsiders.

USED TEAR GAS

Tuscaloosa police used tear gas to break up a crowd of more than 1,000 persons chanting "keep 'Bama white" and waving Confederate flags.

The board said its action was for the safety of its students, faculty and Miss Lucy, and was taken under the police powers of the university. This was expected to give the trustees a defense if they are accused of defying a federal court order directing the school not to bar Negroes on account of their race.

The board barred Miss Lucy temporarily after demonstrators prevented her from attending classes yesterday. Her presence at morning sessions attracted a crowd of 2,000 to 3,000 persons who threw rocks and eggs.

HIT BY ONE EGG

Miss Lucy told newsmen she was hit by one egg on the left shoulder while on the way to attend a class in children's literature.

Dr. Carmichael said in a statement that the board "dared not postpone action lest greater violence than had already occurred should follow."

Carmichael made no reference to threat of legal action by Miss Lucy's attorney if she is not readmitted quickly.

Miss Lucy met with newsmen in Birmingham in the office of her attorney, Arthur D. Shores, after spending the night in an undisclosed rural area.

"I am still determined to attend the University of Alabama," she said.

"All this furor", she added, referring to yesterday's rioting, "should not help or hinder my chances at the university.

"I don't think a majority of the students were involved" in the rioting, she went on. "I think it was a minority group, with outsiders."

Miss Lucy said she agreed that it would have been unwise for her to attend her afternoon classes yesterday.

"I will be happy to know I can get the type of education I desire without going out of the state," she said, "because I want to give my services in Alabama. I think it is best to get my education here."

Shores said in his telegram to the university, "It is regrettable that the University of Alabama would submit to mob rule in excluding Miss Lucy.

"It is the responsibility of the State of Alabama to guarantee and insure Miss Lucy's safety, and she expects the university to reinstate her within the next 48 hours or we will be compelled to take further legal action."

beries were reported to be members of the gang.

The principal said the jury also was interested in suggestions as to "what could be done to improve the situation in the future."

The two detectives, Dr. Pressly and Judge Woolfolk had no direct comment on their appearances. And jury foreman Abner Hirsch had no comment other than to confirm that the jury was investigating delinquency.

Deputy Sheriff Walter Sentell, assigned to the jury, said it was the longest grand jury session he could recall since the days of the late Sol. Gen. John Boykin when an investigation of the state government was under way.

It was understood that the detectives told the jury they did not feel there was any "upsurge" in juvenile crime at all, but that it appeared to be more prominent because more attention was being given to the problem.

The ministers became concerned in the problem immediately after the four Northside teen-agers were involved in the robberies, according to Dr. Monroe F. Swilley Jr. of Second-Ponce de Leon Baptist Church.

"We realize the seriousness of the problem and realized that we had to do something to stir up the consciousness of the problem and honestly face it," Dr. Swilley said.

Speakers on the open forum session will include Atlanta attorney Henry C. Bowden; Mrs. Mason Lowance, speaking for mothers; Dr. Swilley for the churches and Georgia Tech Coach Bobby Dodd.

Adlai Against Use of Force In School Mix

tion laws can ever work. If schools are made private schools—as some Southern states are suggesting—and the government gives them money, aren't they by their very nature then public?"

Stevenson

Stevenson insisted that his broad record as governor of Illinois, and as the Democratic nominee in 1952, demonstrated he favored equal rights for all Americans, regardless of color, race or creed. But he insisted the Negroes and others ought to depend less on laws and legalisms, and more on the "spirit" with which laws were accepted and put into force.

NOT APPEASING SOUTH

Some of the Negroes, by their questions, indicated a belief that Stevenson was willing to "appease" Southern Democrats to win his party nomination again.

Stevenson insisted this was not so, that he would not "appease" anyone. He went on to say he thought the North and South had to live together, that he could not accept the idea of "a Balkanized America."

Gus Hawkins, a Negro member of the state assembly from Los Angeles and chairman of the Watkins Hotel meeting, said it was his view that the meeting this morning was "very successful." In a statement issued through Stevenson headquarters, he said he did not think there had been "adverse reaction" by any member of the audience to the things Stevenson said. If there was, he added, it was among members of the audience who had been opposed to Stevenson before the meeting began.

REMAIN TO SHAKE

It was Hawkins' estimate that fully 80 per cent of the crowd remained behind to shake hands with Stevenson or to attempt to shake hands with him.

His talk to the Negro group followed a breakfast with 150 leaders of organized labor, some of whose members were not entirely satisfied with the answers they got to their questions.

Britons Eye Empire Tie To Europe

Young Statesmen See Gains for All

By BENJAMIN WELLES
(Copyright 1956 by The New York Times Co.)

LONDON, Feb. 7—A far-reaching plan to link West Europe politically and economically with the British commonwealth is being studied at high British government levels.

Its importance lies in the fact that it is being seriously weighed by British statesmen whose long-term ideas today may be government policies tomorrow.

The plan is still in the preliminary stages. It has not advanced to the point of cabinet discussion, nor have top commonwealth or West European statesmen yet heard of it.

LONG-TERM COOPERATION

It is not a "crash" plan for full political union such as Churchill offered France in the dark days of 1940; it is a blueprint for gradual, long-term cooperation between free countries.

It has stemmed, in part, from a growing fear that West Europe is becoming increasingly divided, restless and unhappy as the cold war continues.

The continuing political instability of France and division of Germany are the two gravest sores in a malaise that infects the body politic of most of West Europe, British statesmen believe.

A dynamic new leadership is imperative if free Europe is to be prevented from sinking into neutralist inertia or from drifting into active cooperation with the mighty Soviet bloc, they say. It is increasingly accepted here that Britain not only can but soon must show that leadership.

SWEEPING IMPLICATIONS

The idea of linking — or perhaps of merging—mature, industrial West Europe with the young commonwealth now on the threshhold of its growth, is sweeping in its implications, observers feel.

This union would be the largest and most powerful association of free nations that Britain could promote and guide in the coming half century.

By forging such a union, it is felt here, Britain might not only restore much of her former wealth, prestige and power in world affairs, but also West Europe's technical and material skill could double or triple the present slow rate of commonwealth development.

BIG ALIMONY—NEW YORK, Feb. 7—Mrs. Anna Marie Goldmuntz, 32, wife of an industrial diamond dealer, today was awarded $500 a week temporary alimony, believed to be the second highest in New York State Supreme Court history and second only to the $700 weekly awarded Eleanor Holm, former wife of Billy Rose.

Senator Asks Democrats Back Mixing

(Copyright 1956 by The New York Times Co.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 7—Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass) called upon the Democratic party today to take a forthright stand in support of the Supreme Court decision ending segregation in the public schools.

He acknowledged frankly that such action would alienate Democrats in the South but said the decision is "the law of the land," and the party must realize it "would cost us more elsewhere if we were to weasel on it."

This blunt appraisal came as the 38-year-old New Englander, boyish looking for all his 10 years in Congress, conceded before the New York Young Democratic Club that the party faces a "political quandary" in seeking to frame issues for the coming campaign.

Gas Is Blamed In Widow, Priest Deaths

HERNANDO, Miss., Feb. 7 (AP). A coroner's jury today said an Illinois Roman Catholic priest and a pretty widow, found dead in bed at a motel, died of accidental asphyxiation.

The bodies of the Rev. Thomas J. Connolly, 45, and Mrs. Edward Minor, 40, were found yesterday in a motel about midway between Hernando and Memphis, Tenn., 40 miles to the north.

In Springfield, Ill., the office of Bishop William A. O'Connor said identification of Father Connolly was "certain." His body remained unclaimed at a funeral home.

Father Connolly was pastor of St. Stanislaus Church at Macon, Ill., and the mission of St. Francis de Sales at Moweaqua, Ill.

The sheriff's office in Springfield said Mrs. Minor resided in Springfield. Her husband died about a year ago.

Horse Players on Late Train Can't Bet, Sue RR for $500

BOSTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—The New Haven Railroad, already suffering the pangs of floods, a major wreck and equipment failures, received a new jolt today, this time at the hands of a pair of horse-playing commuters.

Two men sued the railroad for $500. They charged the train they took to the Narragansett race track last Dec. 3 arrived too late for them to bet on the daily double.

As a result, they said, they lost a chance to collect on the winners in the first and second races, which paid a total of $173.60 for $2.

Ralph K. Stewart, Watertown, Mass., and William L. Coilty, Boston, charged they suffered "mental anguish, constant anxiety and financial loss" while Flint and Tar Queen romped to victory in the first two races.

The two men said they doped out the daily double combination while riding the train to the track.

Move Over, Gramma, Here's Another Ham

By MARJORIE SMITH

PORTLY GENTLEMAN at Five Points, squinting in the sun as he gazes affectionately skyward: "You know, I'd almost forgotten what it looked like behind all those rain clouds!"

Roberta Cook

MOVE OVER, Mrs. Ina Settle. Your claim to being Georgia's first grandmother to become a licensed amateur has been challenged.

Mrs. Roberta Cook (W4BJG) of 1165 Lullwater Rd., NE, writes: "Just to keep the record straight, I have been a grandmother for eight years and have had a general class ticket (license) for almost three years!"

Mrs. Cook, as attractive a grandmother as we've seen lately, became a "ham" at the same time as her husband, Howard Cook. The Cooks have "got five countries and three continents in a single day." They also chat with Australia hams "the long way around—around the world once and halfway back again."

Mrs. Cook has one grandson, William Randolph (Randy) Johnson, 8, of Jacksonville. Her other hobbies include photography and Bible study.

Hurray for Grandmothers Settle and Cook. Any other ham grammas in these parts?

A Christian Should Fight Immorality

QUESTION: In the office where I work there is immorality going on. I am not prudish but I know it, and everyone else knows it. I need my job but am I compromising myself as a Christian by staying on?—M. F.

ANSWER: If you mean that immorality is actually being practiced in the office where you work there is nothing for you to do but to leave. But, if you mean there are immoral people working there, it may be that God has placed you here as His own witness under needy and difficult circumstances.

The Apostle Paul tells us what we should do in these words: "I wrote unto you in an epistle not to company with fornicators: yet not altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous, or extortioners, or with idolaters; for then must ye needs go out of the world." He further writes that we must have nothing to do with people who call themselves Christians but are guilty of such sins.

On the other hand, Christians must live as light in the world, for we are its light and its salt. If we withdraw from all sinful surroundings we will lose the very opportunity which God has given us to witness for Him.

Girl, 14, Reports 5 Assaulted Her In Vacant House

A 14-year-old girl Tuesday reported to police that she was held at pistol point and raped by five youths who drove her to a vacant house in a vacant fied near Atlanta.

DeKalb police Lt. R. A. Boone said it was determined the reported assault occurred in Clayton County and the case was turned over to Clayton Sheriff John T. Davis.

The girl had gone on a date with one of the youths, Boone said, and four other boys and a girl joined the party.

Boone said the victim managed to get free, climbed out a window and fled through the night to a farm house nearby.

Four suspects in the case were being held for investigation of larceny, Boone said. He added Clayton County officials would investigate the rape charge.

Cotton Chief Fears Farmers To Lose Sympathy of Cities

By DAN COGGIN

The head of the Cotton Producers Assn. said Tuesday that farmers will experience more difficulty in obtaining public sympathy in the future.

Speaking to a group of agriculture editors at the Assn. of Southern Agricultural Workers convention, D. W. Brooks said farmers have been fortunate in the past, in that a large per cent of the urban population lived in rural areas during their youth.

He predicted the picture will change within 20 years and that only 8 per cent of the nation's population will be farmers.

Therefore, Brooks said, most urban people will know comparatively little about farmers' problems and will regard them as "the little people that aren't there."

In citing the 33 per cent wage increase due city workers March 1, he said he wondered what reactions would be if the farmers took steps to increase their wage that per cent.

At another section of the convention, former Gov. Herman Talmadge declared the proposed new national farm program is "nothing more than a dressed-up version of the same old repudiated Benson plan with its flexible price supports."

The Atlanta attorney said that under the new program farmers still were not guaranteed prices for their crops.

Talmadge said he deplores the fact that the federal government expects the farmer to shift for himself in a free economy while the remainder of the nation "operates within the security of a controlled economy."

He said the new program, "stripped of all its verbiage and gimmicks, is a poor attempt to conceal the old Benson plan."

A Soil Conservation Service agronomist declared good results after planting row crops in a regular sequence behind grasses. He said south Georgia farmers established the practice.

J. E. Pollock, SCS management agronomist, Augusta, said "farmers are generally so well pleased with their results to date that they are planting larger acreages of the different grasses so they can turn grass each year for the benefit of their row crops."

Livestock specialists Tuesday heard reports on the use of drugs, improved rations and new techniques in profitable animal production.

The three-day convention is held each year to provide agricultural workers in 13 Southeastern states with the latest research and experimental information through discussion.

Some 1,500 persons from nearly 150 organizations representing a cross section of the business, industrial and educational worlds are taking part in the meeting.

'Kiss-Blowing' Bandit Gets Sentences of 21-36 Years

Atlanta's "kiss-blowing bandit" was convicted on five counts of robbery in Fulton Superior Court Tuesday and sentenced to 21 to 36 years in prison.

The jury found the defendant, Jack Brown, 43, of Calera, Ala., guilty on all five counts of the indictment and recommended sentences of 38 to 53 years. The jury did not specify whether the sentences were to run concurrently or consecutively.

Judge Virlyn B. Moore gave Brown three sentences of seven to 12 years each to run consecutively and allowed two other sentences, one 10 to 15 years and the other seven to 12 years, to run concurrently with the first three terms.

Slaying Penalties

Two Negroes were given prison terms of five to 10 years each in Fulton Superior Court Tuesday after they pleaded guilty to voluntary manslaughter charges in the fatal stabbing of another Negro.

Witnesses said the stabbing of Timothy Green occurred Jan. 13

The defendants were William Thompkins, 17, and George Ralph Williams.

Two Years in Prison

A 35-year-old DeKalb County man was sentenced to two years in prison and eight years on probation Tuesday on sodomy charges involving a 15-year-old youth.

Sentence was imposed by Fulton Superior Judge Virlyn B. Moore, allowing the defendant, Fred Sims, to be released to a mental hospital for psychiatric treatment after two years. Timothy Green occurred Jan. 13.

Galleries To Be Decked in Flowers As Camellias Kick Off Show Season

By YOLANDE GWIN

This year's Camellia Show will have some new "acts."

The event, set for Feb. 18-19, has been Atlanta's first peek into spring for 11 years. This year will be no exception, but officials have set their sights in different directions.

"This year we plan to have the show at the Atlanta Art Galleries," said Clifford M. Clarke Jr., chairman. "A setting of beauty such as the galleries is an appropriate area for the hundreds of blooms we will have entered."

WITHOUT A THEME

The event will not only mark the first time a specialized show has been held at the galleries, but it will also be a camellia show without a main theme.

For the past nine years, some sectional, exotic or beauty theme has been used, but this year this item of planning, along with some other features, will be different.

"There will be no decorations in the galleries, for the background of beauty is already there," continued Mr. Clarke. "The lighting is good, too. Instead of an educational exhibit which has featured past shows, we are going to devote an entire section of the area for a display of the rare and beautiful collection of camellia prints, engravings and pictures belonging to Mrs. F. Phinizy Calhoun."

TWO EXCEPTIONS

There are two exceptions to the theme idea, however. The 25 garden clubs which will enter the artistic arrangement classes will plan their entries along the lines of "Camellia's Travels Through the Ages." These will run the gamut from ancient Japan to contemporary California.

Since all proceeds from the show will be given to charity, featured exhibits will link beauty with the humanitarian aspect.

The show is being sponsored by the North Georgia Camellia Society, the Atlanta Camellia Society and the Buckhead Lions Club.

In lieu of the fashion show-luncheon which has marked previous camellia openings, there will be a buffet luncheon at the Piedmont Driving Club on Saturday, Feb. 18, for judges and out-of-town guests.

Making its premiere in the flower show field will be a new variety, the Mrs. D. W. Davis. This is a pale pink blossom and a seedling of the Elizabeth Boardman variety. Mr. Clarke, who has some 140 varieties at his home on Mt. Paran road, will enter this variety.

"As far as I know, there are only four of these plants in Atlanta," said Mr. Clarke. "They were only put on the market last fall. I'm keeping my fingers crossed, for the blooms."

Egleston Hospital and the charities aided by the Buckhead Lions Club will share in the proceeds of the show. Due to the weather, most of the Georgia shows have been cancelled according to Mr. Clarke.

Working with him on plans for the show are E. Fay Pearce, Jackson Dick Jr. and Mrs. J. R. Dunn, Mrs. E. B. Worsham and Mrs. E. C. Catts.

Gardenia Club

Gardenia Garden Club will meet Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Ford L. Dwiggins with Mrs. Walter Taylor and Mrs. D. E. Wilson at co-hostesses. Miss Elizabeth Mason will discuss conservation.

Mrs. Frank Malone, a member, will entertain patients at the A. G. Rhodes Home at a Valentine party.

Garden Tip

Feed camellias, azaleas, dogwood, boxwood and gardenias with an acid plant food. February is the most important month of all in the feeding schedule for camellias, since the plants must have ample food when the buds are set for next year's bloom.

Giving Jobs, Not Charity

The founder of the Goodwill Industries is a man I wish I had met. He was, as a magazine wrote several years ago, an enterprising Methodist minister—"bluff, jovial, unorthodox Edgar Helms."

He really used his church—establishing bathing facilities for his slum-dwelling parishioners under the pulpit and using the pews to hold cribs during the weekdays when the church operated a day nursery.

In 1912 when the Goodwill Industries got a big push with a $100,000 contribution from a wealthy friend, he built a factory to take more workers. Professional social workers complained that he was not properly investigating his cases to see if they deserved assistance.

Helms, according to accounts, shrugged off criticism. "I'm not giving charity," he said. "I'm giving jobs."

That has been through the years one of the impressive things about Goodwill. The aged and the blind, the crippled and the hard of hearing, spastics and polio victims, arrested tuberculosis patients and those who are mentally retarded . . . all of these and more earn a living working in the shops and factories of the Goodwill Industries.

The organization gets some of its support from the Community Chest, but most of it from the sale of reconditioned furniture and clothing out of somebody's basement or attic.

And seldom do you hear of the Goodwill asking for anything. The stuff you throw away they cheerfully take and convert into something usable for sale. The emphasis is on work.

But now the Woman's Auxiliary to the Goodwill Industries is asking for something and it's a wonderful chance to help them if you can. They need 100 folding chairs to be used in the chapel and the cafeteria in the plant at 388 Edgewood Ave., NE, where 55 handicapped people are employed.

Folding chairs are needed because these two rooms are small and the chairs can be put away when not in use. If you've ever been to chapel at the Goodwill Industries or to lunch you'll realize the importance of these chairs.

Just as the organization was built on the "not charity but jobs" premise, it has thrived on the daily devotionals of its workers. Every morning employes gather in the chapel before they begin work and hold a brief service of scripture reading, prayer and singing.

"It's a fine way to start the day," an old man told me. "I wish I'd found it years ago. When I leave the chapel and go to my work I got nice words going 'round and 'round in my head—Bible words and song words. Makes me feel good all day."

Lunch time is an important time in the factory because so many of the workers are not physically able to make a trip outside, even if they could afford it. So a hot meal is served in the cafeteria at 25 cents a plate.

Chairs are needed in both places—preferably strong, comfortable folding chairs. But they need not be new or pretty. The auxiliary members are handy with paint brushes and they will make them presentable.

And if you haven't any folding chairs to contribute, don't let that deter you. Discarded furniture, clothing and shoes are welcome. The Goodwill truck will pick it up if you phone them.

Problems of Canning, Freezing Aired Here

By JEANNE HIGGINS

There's more to a jar of food than the food that goes into the jar.

It's the jar plus the cap that seals the product, according to Miss Georgia Hess, moderator of a "This Is Our Line" panel presented Tuesday before the home economics section of the Association of Southern Agricultural Workers convention.

Miss Hess wore a hat which she called her "lid with a snap." It was home-made of a cardboard disc and garnished with artificial cherries and jar lids.

The panel discussion of home canning and freezing in glass jars opened the second day of the three-day convention of some 1,500 agricultural workers from 13 states. Approximately 75 home economists engaged in teaching, research, agricultural extension work and home economics in business are attending the home economics section.

More than 20,000,000 families in the United States do home canning, according to Miss Gladys Kimbrough. "And there is nothing difficult about either canning or freezing in the home," she said.

The panel was composed of Miss Kimbrough and Miss Zella Hale Weyant, both representatives of glass jar manufacturers, and J. G. Woodroof of the Georgia Agricultural Experiment Station.

The panel members discussed questions most frequently asked about home canning and freezing in glass jars.

According to Mr. Woodroff, even james and jellies are better when kept refrigerated. However, when space is limited, it is not recommended that the space be used for keeping canned foods.

On the program for Tuesday afternoon is "Fashions and Fabrics for the Spring of 1956," by Mable Owens, fabric fashionist for a local department store.

The home economics section of the convention will hold its last session Wednesday morning following a discussion on "How Can We Strengthen the Home Economics Section of ASAW?"

Heavy Italian Silk New in Separates

This is the first season that I recall seeing silk separates. I mean silk pants, in any length—a silk skirt to wear with a contrasting or matching silk shirt. If you like you may add a silk jacket like our men wear too.

Of course the heavier Italian silk Dupioni is first and last choice because it's heavy enough for pants and yet has that informal quality that separates imply.

I like them especially in navy or black but you may certainly have blonde beige or a pretty pastel if you choose.

Miss Willoughby To Address Sorority

Moores To Entertain At Her Childhood Home

When Mr. and Mrs. W. Pete Moore moved early in January to Marietta, it meant returning to her childhood home for Mrs. Moore, the former Tillie Trezevant of Marietta.

The Moores are residing with Mrs. Moore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howell Trezevant, in one of the most historic old homes in this section. Built 150 years ago on the Powder Springs road, it is a Colonial cottage in design, with tall columns and a veranda completely across the front. Of frame construction, put together with wooden pegs, it has huge handhewn beams and the doors reflect the Egyptian influence, being wider at the bottom and tapering toward the top.

A wide front hall leads through the house to the spacious living room at the back which opens onto the rear terrace and overlooks the beautiful boxwood gardens which are Mrs. Trezevant's pride and joy.

The house was once the home of the headmaster of a military academy next door, where the Marietta Golf Club now stands. In Sherman's march to the sea it was spared because the original owners, members of the Brumby family, were his personal friends.

On Friday Mr. and Mrs. Moore will be hosts at the cocktail hour, having invited a group of their Atlanta friends to meet their Marietta friends between 5 and 7 o'clock.

In Winter, the Hair Needs Special Care

By MARY GRAY ANDERSON

Are you among the many women who made beauty resolutions the first of the year and have already let them fall by the wayside?

Now is a good time to reaffirm those resolutions to lose a few pounds, clear up your complexion, or do something about your hair.

Hair is a special problem in the wintertime. Unless you can afford to visit your beauty salon several times a week, or have the time to shampoo and coif your hair at home two or three times a week, the heat in your home will probably soak up the oil and give your hair a dull, stringy appearance.

GOOD PLANNING

But hair that is dull, drab and lifeless looking can become lustrous and manageable again. Good planning will help you restore beauty to your hair.

Daily brushing and frequent treatment shampoos will very likely do the trick for you. Treatment shampoos are vital to hair that is especially dry, brittle or frizzy.

This treatments are done with a cream rinse. This restores necessary oil to the hair, but does not give it that greasy appearance it often gets from using great amounts of oily hair dressings between washings.

It is also best to use a cream shampoo if the hair is dry. After your shampoo and water rinse, mix the cream rinse in a cup of warm water and pour it slowly through the hair. Massage it into your hair.

COVER HAIR WELL

Then, dip a turkish towel into hot water. Wring it out and wrap it around your head, covering all the hair well. As soon as the towel begins to cool, heat it again. Repeat this for a total of three applications. Then spray the hair thoroughly with clear water.

It is a good idea in the winter to rub a little cream hair dressing on the bristles each time you brush your hair.

If you are ever caught with an important date, and didn't have time for a much-needed shampoo, Lilly Dache offers this suggestion for an emergency pickup for oily, bedraggled hair.

SPRAY SCALP

Part the hair in narrow strips and spray the scalp thoroughly with light toilet water or cologne until the scalp, not the hair, is wet. Rub the scalp and hair with fingertips until the liquid dampens the hair.

Let it dry a few seconds, then brush firmly back from the hairline.

Now wet with the scented liquid a few locks here and there where you have the "accents" in your coiffure and make pin curls.

Let these dry while you have your bath and dress. At the last minute brush them out and you are ready.

But heed this warning. This last method is good to use for occasional emergencies, but it is apt to dry the hair if used too often.

Late Advance Helps Cotton

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (AP)—Cotton futures closed 35 cents a bale higher to 90 cents lower today, with old crop months showing the gains. Considerable liquidation and some hedging at one time depressed prices as much as $1.25 a bale under the previous close. Increased mill buying and professional short covering led to a late rally.

Much of the day's selling was attributed to profit-taking. Uncertainty over congressional moves on farm legislation tended to weigh on new crop months.

Meanwhile, details released by the International Cooperation Administration on its cotton authorization of $9,600,000 to Yugoslavia showed the contracting period for the cotton will be Feb. 9-May 15, with June 15 the final delivery date.

EAL Slates $500,000 Expansion at Airport

By BOB SIBLEY

Eastern Air Lines will expand its facilities at Atlanta Airport. Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, chairman of the Eastern board, said his company will spend $500,000 to provide 19 independent gate positions.

Rickenbacker said the expansion, scheduled for fall completion, is "an interim expenditure" pending completion of the new airport terminal.

"The additional ramp space will help relieve congestion and expedite arrivals and departures," Rickenbacker said. "It also will eliminate double and triple plane parking."

The airline executive, in Atlanta for a systemwide meeting, said the project "will accommodate new service from all directions."

$3.5 MILLION HANGAR

At the same time, Rickenbacker said Eastern is continuing plans for a $3.5 million hangar at the airport. "Barring complications—and I don't expect any—the hangar will be completed before the new terminal."

Describing himself as a "realistic optimist," Rickenbacker predicted a bright future for air travel. He cited:

1. That 41 million passengers carried by scheduled airlines in 1955 included only 10 million individuals. "This large repeat business leaves a vast potential of future customers."

2. A new generation has been born in the lap of aviation. "Just as automobiles became more popular after World War I, air travel will for this generation."

200 MILLION PEOPLE

3. Natural increase in population. "Our population, always underestimated, should reach 200 million by 1965."

4. Increasing life expectancy. "Older persons will have more leisure time and more money for travel. They, like the younger generation, will be attracted by air travel's cleanliness."

5. Mass vacations. "Many industries have begun mass vacations for employes. As the vacations increase in length, air travel will permit the employes to make more than one trip."

Rickenbacker said Eastern's $381 million in planes on order "will mean a 128 per cent increase in the airline's seat capacity by late 1960."

The board chairman was accompanied to Atlanta by T. F. Armstrong, Eastern president, and other company officials.

Senators Rip Radio Ads, TV Set Manufacturers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP)—A trio of Senate Democrats lit into radio advertisers and television set manufacturers today at a Senate Commerce Committee hearing.

Chairman Magnuson (D-Wash) accused some radio advertisers of engaging in "false and fraudulent" practices by which, he said, "the public is bilked."

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) assailed TV manufacturers, claiming their practices in making TV sets indicate they have no "sense of public service at all." He said they aren't making single sets capable of handling the two types of signal now being transmitted.

Sen. Pastore (D-RI) joined in the free swinging criticism as the committee questioned members of the Federal Communications Commission on their methods of dealing with radio and TV problems.

Much of the session was devoted to the question of something called "deintermixture."

Some persons contend this is the only way to solve the problems brought about by the advent of UHF—ultra high frequency signals.

In the earlier days of television, there were only 12 channels, numbered from 2 to 13. These were VHF—very high frequency channels.

But since then, UHF has come into the picture with 70 additional channels. A number of UHF stations have gone broke, however, since the majority of TV sets are not equipped to receive UHF signals.

Deintermixture means not to mix UHF and VHF stations in the same community or to unmix them where this already has occurred.

FCC Chairman George C. McConnaughey said there are now 37½ million TV sets in the country but that only seven million of these are equipped to receive UHF.

McConnaughey said the commission has asked for comments on the deintermixture problem and that the FCC might make some decision within three or four months.

Pastore said the public wants more television, including UHF, but shouldn't have to foot the bill for converting to UHF.

Fernandel, Girls Help Hope

By JACK GOULD

(Copyright 1956 by The New York Times Co.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 7—Bob Hope's television show tonight was made on film in England. There is something to be said for travel.

Fernandel, the French comedian, was in the cast and turned a familiar sketch into a most delightful bit of foolish slapstick. So, too, were some young ladies whose talents made one recall the yesteryear of Billy Rose; they sure knew how to walk.

Bob was his characteristically saucy self, but this time he also had some pretty good quips. He explained that he was making a film in England. Like all good little English pictures, he suggested, it would probably wind up on somebody's late show.

Anyway, Bob got off, as the saying goes, which he has not always managed to do in TV of late seasons. More to the point, he had the wisdom to engage Fernandel. The Frenchman portrayed a succession of "relatives" of Bob's French fiancee, and swept all before him.

Apart from Fernandel, Bob wouldn't have had very much of a show without the pretty girls of England and France.

Laboratories Study Pigment of Skin

The pigment of the skin is being studied in laboratories throughout the country. As a result, compounds now are available to lighten dark skin and vice versa. Several weeks ago we wrote on the use of psoralens in the treatment of vitiligo, the condition in which there are white patches of skin over various parts of the body.

The monobenzyl ether of hydroquinone has the opposite effect. This chemical is capable of removing enough pigment from brownish or blackish areas so that these darker regions match the normal skin.

The product should be of value in freckles, chloasma, and other pigmentary disturbances. Chloasma is the discoloration of the face that develops during pregnancy or the menopause.

The so-called mask of pregnancy disappears spontaneously, as a rule, after the baby is born but the discoloration is likely to be more stubborn when it appears in middle-aged women. The majority camouflage the area with suitable make-up and let it go at that.

When menobenzyl ether of hydroquinone is used locally in concentrations of two to 33 per cent, pigment usually vanishes.

This material is available in cream or soap. It must be applied once or twice a day for months for a prolonged effect. Parahydroxyphenyl, a rival product, also inhibits pigment but the results are controversial.

Skin pigment (melanin) is an insoluble brown or black substance that is formed by certain cells (emlanocytes) of the skin. These cells are activated by an enzyme (tyrosinase) which in turn is stimulated by sunlight or repeated ultraviolet irradiation.

But skin color also is governed by a second chemical, sulfhydril, which neutralizes tyrosinase and prevents pigment from forming. This demonstrates that the development of skin color is a complex mechanism.

Individuals with dark skin have half as much sulfhydril as those with a fair complexion. When there is an overabundance of this chemical the skin cannot tan, even when exposed to the sun, because tyrosinase cannot act.

Vitamin C and various amino acids also regulate melanin synthesis. Hormones do the same, especially the pituitary and sex glands. Eunuchs do not tan well and the overpigmentation in chloasma is related to changes in the glandular balance brought on by pregnancy or the menopause. The more we know about these basic reactions, the better we can understand skin coloring.

Salesmanship Is Not Catch-All for Misfits

Paul R., 34, is a brilliant sales manager.

"My greatest problem with new salesmen," he began ruefully, "is how to get them to memorize a canned sales talk.

"They seem to think I am making much ado about nothing when I warn them of its importance.

"So they learn a few paragraphs; then they figure they can improvise the right answers on the spur of the moment when they later encounter prospects.

"But, Dr. Crane, as you have so often warned, a person can't rely on inspiration of the moment. So please offer some hints to salesmen, both for my own crew and also for the other sales managers all over America."

Since I taught the psychology classes on "Sales and Advertising" for many years in leading American universities, I always welcome a chance to deal with this vital subject.

And it really is "vital," for the late Dr. Glenn Frank called the salesman the "sparkplug" of civilization.

The pitfalls that beset salesmen are these:

(1) Culls and failures in other fields often think they can fall back into sales work and be successful. Salesmanship, however, is a professional career, like medicine or law, and requires brains, vigor and intelligent training. Selling is not a catch-all or wastebasket into which can be dumped the misfits of life.

(2) Salesmen should memorize a canned sales talk. This doesn't mean they will use it in one-two-three order, for a gifted memorizer can re-synthesize the paragraphs to meet spontaneous situations that arise.

But he must have the memorized sentences and paragraphs! You can't rely on spur-of-the-moment genius to make you successful.

(3) A salesman must be adept with the "pause and praise" strategy, which will be outlined more fully tomorrow.

The bidding:

| North | East | South | West |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 club | 1 spade | 3 hearts | 3 spades |
| Pass | 4 spades | 6 hearts | Pass |
| Pass | Pass | | |

Opening lead: Three of spades.

South, declarer in today's hand, ran into one of nature's bottlenecks in the play of this slam contract but devised a neat little device to clear the congestion in traffic.

North opened with one club and East overcalled one spade. South had the necessary ingredients for an immediate cue but chose instead to make a jump shift in his powerful suit. West, sensing an adverse slam, entered the scene with a bid of three spades. This was intended to lay the basis for a sacrifice bid by partner if, as it seemed certain, the opposition should reach a lucrative contract.

North, having a minimum opening, took no action and East proceeded to four spades though with scant hope of buying the hand. South, convinced that science could do more for him, contracted for slam at once. East, feeling that he had sufficient defensive values to fight it out, declined to "take the save."

West led the three of spades. East covered dummy's jack with the queen and South ruffed. When trumps failed to break two-two a slight complication set in. Now, if the jack of clubs did not fall on the first or second round, declarer would be unable to cash the fifth club (due to the fact that the suit would block) and he would, consequently, be subject to the loss of two diamond tricks.

After drawing three trumps he tried the clubs and when West showed out on the second round prospects looked very dim. However, after a moment's consideration, South hit on the solution to his roadblock. He led the king of spades and when East covered with the ace, he was permitted to hold the trick as South shed the nine of clubs. Now, declarer after winning the return could overtake the ten of clubs and run dummy's suit to discard the two little diamonds.

"Political leaders note an interest trend in the forthcoming year's elections which indicates many voters who are usually apathetic about the ballot will be exercising the privilege."—Political column quote.

Since Washington stood in his boat . . . to cross the Delaware, the vote . . . has been a privilege we share . . . yet many never seem to care . . . about it on election day . . . but when it's over with they say . . "why don't they throw them rascals out . . . that bunch of crooks has just about . . . locked all the doors and barred the gates . . . to folks in these United States."

And yet we can't condemn them all . . . for some have "nothing on the ball" . . . and have to do the way they're told . . . or they'll be left outside the fold . . . and some of them are honest men . . . (you meet one of them now and then) . . . who gives it that old "college try" . . . but he's a mighty lonesome guy . . . and is so often voted down . . . they curse him in his own home town.

The others have their troubles, too . . . they're criticized by people who . . . will never vote but often say . . . "well, what's the difference, anyway . . . they're all a lot of crooks and thieves" . . . and since they take no part, that leaves . . . the ones who vote charged with the crime . . . of making mistakes all the time.

Does Your House Have Weary Wiring?

The symptoms of weary, inadequate wiring in your house are easy to spot:

Take your electrical appliances. Do they work poorly when other appliances are used at the same time? Are they slow in heating? And if they are, did you know they are costing you more money to operate less efficiently?

How about blown fuses? Does this problem plague you? If so, you have too many appliances connected to one electrical circuit. And probably you don't have enough circuits.

Ever notice your television picture shrink or flicker when appliances are turned on? Again inadequate wiring is to blame!

Actually, four of every five houses are not wired adequately to take care of the many electrical servants in use by most of us today. More than likely, your house falls into this category.

But now you can do something about it!

MODERNIZE YOUR HOME WIRING FOR AS LITTLE AS $5 PER MONTH

Electrical Modernizers, Inc., an organization made up of Atlanta's leading electrical contractors, has initiated a program whereby you can modernize the wiring in your home now . . . and pay for the work in modest monthly installments . . . perhaps as little as $5.00 per month, depending, of course, on your particular wiring needs.

This program, endorsed by the Georgia Power Company and the Atlanta Chapter, National Electrical Contractors' Association, makes it possible for you to realize full enjoyment and benefit from your electrical aids-to-better-living.

If you live in Metropolitan Atlanta, mail the coupon below or call WAlnut 9875 today for additional information and a free wiring check.

Four Negro BishopsGive Plaint to Ike

A telegram protesting anti-desegregation actions of state legislatures and demonstrations at the University of Alabama was sent Tuesday to President Eisenhower by four bishops of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, meeting here.

The telegram stated:

"We respectfully urge that your good office be used to bring to the attention of responsible leaders of the South the irreparable damage being done American foreign relations by legislative resolutions against the Supreme Court public school desegregation decisions and riots such as those at the University of Alabama.

FEAR ALLIES HURT

"Such things increase the susceptibility of our non-white allies to propaganda of our enemies."

The telegram was signed by Bishop Sherman Lawrence Greene of Atlanta, senior bishop, and Bishops H. Thomas Primm of New Orleans; Frederick D. Jordan of Los Angeles, and E. C. Hatcher of Nashville, Tenn.

Opening the annual Founders' Day convocation at Morris Brown College, Bishop Greene called upon all forces of the Christian Church to "stand firmly with the spirit of brotherhood and good citizenship."

WARN OF TOLL

"It is time some of the responsible leaders of the South remember that the United States can no longer exist in the world without allies," he said. "Some of these allies upon whom our national security depends are non-white.

"Such disgraceful acts as the recent riots on the campus of the University of Alabama and the act of the state legislature in challenging the jurisdiction of the United States Supreme Court may cost thousands of American lives in some future war through the political loss of potential allies."
